THE LINCOLN BANQUET

There Was an Enthusiastic Party Present.

THE FEAST WAS A ROYAL ONE

The Assembled Guests Did Full Justice to the Substantial and Delicacies—The Speakers Did Themselves Proud in Their Eulogies Respecting Lincoln and Other Great Leaders of the Republican Party.

At 10:30 last night, at the Thompson House, 56 members of the McKinley club, of East Liverpool, filed into the handsome dining room, where a royal feast had been prepared by Mine Host Pope, and the white clad lady attendants were soon flitting around and about the happy guests, paying earnest and prompt attention to the stalwart Republicans of this stirring pottery center. The following gentlemen participated:

W. V. Blake.	E. W. Hill.
T. H. Arbuckle.	Geo. Grosshans.
J. C. Boone.	Geo. Simms.
Wm. Powell.	Percy Frost.
Smith Fowler.	Jos. Turnbull.
Dan Nellis.	Jimmie Hanley.
Geo. Ashbaugh.	O. M. Dix.
A. S. Rogers.	A. C. Voegel.
Mayor Gilbert.	T. R. Bradshaw.
Wm. B. McCord.	D. J. Smith.
C. B. Galtbreath.	Warren McCain.
H. Badgley.	O. H. Sebring.
B. Peterson.	W. R. Dawson.
Wm. Tritt.	Geo. Adams.
A. H. McCoy.	E. M. Crouse.
J. A. Gardner.	Fred Sebring.
Ed. McIntosh.	R. D. Van Fossen.
F. E. Grosshans.	F. I. Allison.
Wm. Johnson.	E. D. McMillen.
J. T. McMillen.	L. C. Hoopes.
James Cowan.	S. Herbert.
Alf Johnson.	S. M. Seever.
John S. McNutt.	Will L. Taylor.
Jason H. Brookes.	Geo. H. Owen.
Dr. R. J. Marshall.	F. H. Croxall.
A. H. Clark.	John Peake.
J. A. Martin.	W. B. Hill.
Harry Palmer.	Wm. Pope.

President Walter B. Hill was master of ceremonies, and after the wants of the inner man were fully satisfied, the president read letters from P. M. Smith, P. M. Ashford, Judge Young, Frank Mercer, mayor of Salem; W. H. Meilinger, Leetonia; L. T. Farr, J. J. Purinton, W. W. Hole, A. R. Mackall and Henry E. Porter, regretting that they were unable to be present.

President Hill made a brief opening address, stating the object of the banquet and meeting, and then referred to the statue of the rail splitter as it appeared at the exposition at Chicago, further enlarging upon Lincoln's birth, childhood and glorious manhood, the essence of patriotism, statesmanship and love of country. Hill was heartily applauded.

Professor C. B. Galtbreath, of Rogers, had as his topic "Our Leaders," and he handled it with rare good judgment, being frequently interrupted by hearty hand clapping. He referred in warm terms to the great Republican leaders who have gone to their final account, to our noble and heroic dead, and then gave splendid praise, in eloquent terms, to living Republican leaders, paying such a tribute to the favorite son of Ohio, William McKinley, as to set the hearts and pulses of his hearers throbbing, and the applause made the room ring. Joseph Benson Furaker's name met with hearty response. Professor Galtbreath wound up his masterly effort with "Thank God for the leaders of the Republican party."

A. H. McCoy, of Calcutta, responded to "Our Party," first eulogizing Abraham Lincoln and speaking of his magnificent leadership of the party of parties—the party which, for 31 years, has given happiness and prosperity to this great nation; a party which sprang from the ashes of disaster, after incompetent Democratic rule and even worse than incompetency; a party which found financial ruin as the heritage of the nation, and out of this ruin, eventually brought renewed prosperity and happiness to the masses. Abraham Lincoln found the nation in the blackness of darkness; but he had faith in the American people—in the masses; in their self-sacrificing spirit; in the patriotism and loyalty of the Republican party, and he carried this faith all the way through the awful struggle of civil war. The Republican leaders were advised and tempted to repudiate war debts; but, staunch and true to manhood, and to the country they loved so well, they resolved to pay every penny of honest indebtedness. The soldiers, the men who did the fighting, the grand rank and file, have not been forgotten, and no country in all the universe has done as much for the soldier veterans who wore the blue as has this great nation; and this action has been mainly through the efforts of our glorious Republican party. Our heroic dead have been gathered together, and their remains rest peacefully in beautiful cemeteries, where a loyal people do honor to the brave boys who won the fight for the right and for human liberty. The speaker was heartily applauded for his truly eloquent talk.

A. H. Clark responded to "Trials and Tribulations of the Candidate," stating that he found it frigid in the northern townships in his canvass, better temperature in the middle, warmer as he came south, and redhot in the extreme southern townships, and that he was almost tempted to continue his journey into West Virginia. He stated that he found his opponents, Boone and Martin, busily engaged in bluffing the farmers, flattering the ladies and kissing the babies, while at other times they were coddling up to ministers and anon transferring their warm attention to the opposite extreme, the saloonkeepers of the county. Clark went hot after boodlers and said he found them at almost every cross roads. He also intimated that some of the candidates had purchased a brewery at East Palestine, and created much merriment by a fling at Ed Crosser, whom all the people know to be a total abstainer.

J. A. Martin responded to "Where Are We At." His first salute was to Clark, whom he advised to stay at home and saw wood, and then he pathetically remarked: "The charming daisies present have decorated the lapels of the coats of my competitors with beautiful, fragrant flowers, while my manly bosom goes unadorned." One of the attendants remedied the matter at once, amid long-continued applause. Then Martin remarked: "I have been resting easy, my friends, in the consciousness that Clark and Boone have been prepared, like unto the little innocent lamb, for sacrifice at the coming primaries," and then a roar went round the tables. Martin gave a description of his visit to the mines in this section, where a man six feet and one inch in height, and weighing 200 pounds, was compelled to adjust his frame to a height of four feet, while his nose was between his knees and his coat tail brushing the roof. He spoke of the wages men were earning there, $1.20 per day, in these good Democratic times, and rejoiced that Republicanism would soon bring prosperity and good wages to the workmen of the nation, winding up with a grand send-off for William McKinley.

G. C. Boone, of Salem, occupied his time in eulogizing Lincoln, as the great commoner, the man for the masses, the people's friend, seeking the welfare of the nation at large and not the selfish advancement of Abraham Lincoln.

D. J. Smith, Mount Pisgah's prophet, made a characteristic speech, full of native eloquence, loyalty, patriotism and love of country. His talk was the essence of good common sense, pithy and terse, and the hearty applause which followed shows that D. J. is a general favorite in the McKinley club.

W. V. Blake was called on and made a bright and sparkling little talk, eulogizing Lincoln and speaking of McKinley as a worthy follower of the great and glorious martyr to liberty and freedom—McKinley, Ohio's favorite son, and her first choice for the presidency of the United States.

John S. McNutt said he had made his little speech to over 2,000 voters in East Liverpool, and if there was a member present who had not heard it, he would take deep delight in taking him to some lonely and secluded spot, and there inflicting it upon him.

J. I. McMillen said he was happy, too full for utterance, had enjoyed himself amazingly, and had no desire to detain the audience.

Leonard C. Hoopes had no desire to detain his friends, and Ed Crosser refused to sing, or even attempt to warble melodiously, so James M. Hanley moved for adjournment and the merry party departed for home at 1:20 this morning, each participant pronouncing the banquet a flattering success.

THE CAUCUS MEETING

Delegates and Alternates Selected.

CONGRESSMAN TAYLER ENDORSED

W. L. Smith Chosen as a Representative to the National Convention—The Meeting Well Attended and Much Business Transacted.

The meeting of the Republican caucus at the city hall last night, for the purpose of selecting delegates and alternates for the congressional convention, and the endorsing of a delegate to represent us at the national convention, was held.

Chairman of Central committee, D. F. Nellis, called the meeting to order, and stated the object thereof. There was a good attendance and the business of the evening was commenced without further ceremony. Jason H. Brookes arose and made a motion that the chair appoint a committee of three, to choose a requisite number of names, to be selected, subject to the action of the caucus, as the delegates and alternates. The motion was seconded and passed. Messrs. Brookes, Owen and Thomas were appointed to act as that committee. The gentlemen retired and returned with the following report. Delegates and alternates for the congressional convention.

Delegates—First ward: Frank Allison, W. V. Blake, W. S. Brunt, Jason H. Brookes. Alternates—Elmer Stevenson, D. F. Nellis, William Miller, J. E. McDonald.

Delegates—Second ward: James N. Hanley, C. Stewart, Frank Dickey. Alternates—J. N. Rose, George Grosshans, Thomas W. Morris.

Delegates—Third ward: John N. Taylor, George H. Owen, Thomas H. Arbuckle, A. V. Gilbert. Alternates—H. L. Simms, J. W. Harris, John Reark, F. H. Croxall.

Delegates—Fourth ward: A. W. Thomas, Milton Logan, John Peake, George Ashbaugh. Alternates—Sherman Herbert, E. J. Owen, Mark Douglass, W. H. Griggs.

A motion was made to accept the above names, and it carried. Then the following resolutions, that had been prepared by the committee, in favor of the selection of W. L. Smith as delegate to the National convention and endorsing the renomination of Hon. R. W. Taylor for congress, was read. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That whereas, believing as we do that the honors at the disposal of the Republican party should be granted to those who have most faithfully served it, and whereas East Liverpool presents a candidate for delegate to the National convention, who is entitled to that distinction by reason of his long, efficacious and heretofore unrewarded service to the principles of Republicanism in this county and state, Therefore be it

Resolved, That the delegates from this township heretofore selected to the district convention be, and they are hereby instructed to vote for and to use every honorable effort in their power to insure the election of W. L. Smith of this city as national delegate from this congressional district to the St. Louis convention.

Resolved, That we fully approve of the official acts and utterances of Hon. Robert W. Taylor, of this county, who so ably represents this district in the congress of the United States. That we heartily endorse him for the high position that he holds, and instruct our congressional delegates to give to him their undivided support to that end.

The resolutions were adopted as read, and the meeting adjourned, everybody feeling that the deliberations of the caucus were characterized by good judgment.

After the caucus had closed, the central committee met and selected Saturday, March 21, as the day on which the primaries will be held. It was decided that all candidates must hand their names in to the committee on or before Wednesday, March 11, at 7 p. m. The date set will make the city primaries come just one week before the county ticket is nominated, and will insure a lively time among the Republicans of the city for the entire month. The meeting was harmonious and the date was selected without discussion.

SAID HE SWORE AT HER.

A Warrant Issued for the Arrest of Charles Coulson.

Mrs. M. Jacobs, of Franklin avenue, appeared before Mayor Gilbert last night and made complaint against Charles Coulson, charging him with using indecent language and calling her bad names. A warrant was issued for Coulson's arrest, but he came down to city hall and gave himself up before it was served. The mayor arraigned him and he pleaded not guilty and will stand trial. The time of hearing has not been set yet. Coulson was released upon security being given by a friend.

A lad named Owen was arrested by Officer Jennings last night on the street. He was performing a series of evolutions, highly edifying to a group of interested spectators who had gathered to witness the scene. The minion of the law chanced in that direction and deemed it expedient to place the versatile Owens in a more congenial place, as the amount of fire water that he had partaken of previously in the evening threatened to materially impair the equilibrium of the aforesaid youngster. He has not been arraigned yet.

WARMED HIM UP.

A Keen Witted "Drummer" Objects to Being Classed With Peddlers.

The following communication, coming from a member of a fraternity or class known all over the world as hustlers, is worthy of publication. It is written in neat manner and style and is couched in courteous tones, but brimming over with independence, a characteristic common to the class the writer represents. Had he been just a little better posted in orthography, we would not have found it necessary to correct his subject matter before passing it to the compositor:

"You have in your paper of today under heading, 'She Warmed Him Up,' some mud throwing on which we, as commercial travelers or 'drummers,' draw the line. People that visit the consumer to dispose of wares they have for sale are known as 'peddlers,' not 'drummers,' as you term them. The men that are representing the manufacturing and mercantile houses in this broad land today are men that will average in ability and respectability with any class of men that are favored with a business that confines them to the confines of their own town, Liverpool included. We respectfully ask you to put us in the proper light with the people of your community, and in the future don't be so ready to throw mud at our fraternity without first finding out whether the offender is a commercial traveler, a 'drummer,' or, as in 99 cases out of 100, a peddler. You can publish this or not, as you please, but it is written by a member of the fraternity who are known as 'drummers.' Respectfully Yours,

W. S. DOUGLASS.

MRS. MARTIN DISCHARGED.

The Lady Gives Her Account of Leaving the Postoffice.

Mrs. D. B. Martin is no longer an employe in the postoffice of East Liverpool, as she severed her connection with that institution last evening at the request or demand of Postmaster M. E. Miskall. Mrs. Martin was interviewed by a News Review reporter this afternoon, at her home on Washington street, and gave about the following as her explanation of the matter:

"My discharge was peremptory and I was permitted no appeal. My fault was in committing an error in a report, a simple matter, and one which could have been easily remedied and caused no one material inconvenience. I have served the government faithfully and intelligently for the past 10 years and have made but very few mistakes or errors, and I think I should have been treated more courteously than I was by Postmaster Miskall. I was very curtly told not to come on duty this morning, and the remark was made at the same time that the office would be weeded out."

FILED AN ACTION TODAY.

The Old Eclipse Baseball Case In Court Again.

Special to the News Review.

LITCHON, Feb. 13.—W. T. Smith took steps in court this morning to recover from G. Y. Travis a judgment which was given him at the May term of court against a number of the Eclipse baseball club. The judgment was for $465.60, due for the grand stand erected on the ball ground the previous summer. The other members held responsible for its payment are insolvent. The petition asks the court to appoint a receiver to take charge of Travis' affairs.

Joseph W. Geon was fined $40 for selling liquor to a minor.

Timothy Strain, who, it will be remembered, robbed Doctor Locke of silverware four or five years ago, turned up last night and was arrested. He will be held until the parties prosecuting can be heard from.

An Infant Dead.

A two-months-old child of Samuel Vaulk, of Washington street, died this morning from an attack of spinal meningitis. The remains will be taken to Long's Run tomorrow for interment.

NONE BUT ATTORNEYS

Shall Act as Solicitors For Corporations.

SO SAYS THE BILL JUST PASSED

The Measure Was Introduced In the House by P. M. Ashford Several Days Ago and Caused Much Discussion Yesterday, but Finally Passed.

The Cleveland Leader, in speaking of the bill introduced by P. M. Ashford in regard to solicitors, says the following:

"Patriotism, sarcasm and slow-pokeism figured prominently in the proceedings of the house this morning, and the result was that the wheels of progress did not turn very rapidly, only two little bills being passed. There was a furious debate upon a bill introduced by Mr. Ashford, of Columbiana, amending the law relating to solicitors of corporations, so that none but attorneys-at-law shall be eligible to election. This bill was defeated several days ago, when only a few members were present, but it was led out again today for reconsideration and was passed. Several members antagonized the bill. Mr. Hutcheson, who is Mr. Ashford's colleague from Columbiana, attacked the bill in his characteristic manner. He assailed it vigorously on the ground that it was a scheme to force the people to vote for a lawyer. He didn't think much of lawyers as a rule anyway, and his experience had been that lawyers in such positions were apt to involve the county in more serious trouble than solicitors who were selected from the common people.

"Mr. Star, of Williams, did not propose to be forced to vote for a lawyer. He regarded it as an insult to Williams county intelligence for the legislature to say whether a lawyer or doctor or ditch digger should be elected to office. He wanted liberty for himself and liberty for Williams county. His forefathers fought through the Revolutionary war, and they spilled some of their blood in Valley Forge. Some of the same blood still coursed through his veins, and that blood would never be enslaved without a contest. Mr. Starr voted a vigorous 'no' on the bill, but it passed by a large majority."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Lewis Barth Gets Caught in a Shaft Yesterday.

Lewis Barth, employed at the Union pottery as a mould runner, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. He was working about the shaft, which runs under his work bench, when his apron caught and he was dragged in. He was carried around the shaft two or three times, while another employe ran to the engine room and stopped the engine. The young man was picked up and conveyed to his home on Bradshaw avenue in a carriage and a physician summoned. When examined it was found that no bones had been broken, although bruises on his body were quite numerous. The shock will cause his absence from duty a few days only.

CAPTURED THE FLOWERS.

Percy Frost Captured the Bouquet at the Banquet.

Percy Frost was the envy of all observers at the Lincoln banquet last night, as he was the recipient of an exquisite button hole bouquet, at the hands of a pair of charming maidens. As the beautiful flowers were placed in the lapel of the artist's coat, the audience rose en-masse and applauded to the echo, while Percy blushed like unto the damsel of sweet sixteen, as she submits to the first kiss of her sweetheart. Jason H. Brookes was a competitor for the floral offering, but the young ladies discovered that he is a married man, the father of a large family, and the eloquent attorney was not in the swim.

ALABAMA.

Preparations Being Made For Its Production.

The stage hands are making preparation for their benefit, which will be held at the Grand on Tuesday, March 3. Calcium lights will be used, which will add greatly to the beauty of the scenery carried by the company. Tickets are being sold by all the employes on the stage and are being rapidly taken. The reputation gained by "Alabama" when produced in this city the first of the season insures the boys a large house, it being without doubt one of the finest attractions ever produced in this city.

Granted a Pension.

Delegates—First ward: Frank Allison, W. V. Blake, W. S. Brunt, Jason H. Brookes. Alternates—Elmer Stevenson, D. F. Nellis, William Miller, J. E. McDonald.

Delegates—Second ward: James N. Hanley, C. Stewart, Frank Dickey. Alternates—J. N. Rose, George Grosshans, Thomas W. Morris.

Delegates—Third ward: John N. Taylor, George H. Owen, Thomas H. Arbuckle, A. V. Gilbert. Alternates—H. L. Simms, J. W. Harris, John Reark, F. H. Croxall.

Delegates—Fourth ward: A. W. Thomas, Milton Logan, John Peake, George Ashbaugh. Alternates—Sherman Herbert, E. J. Owen, Mark Douglass, W. H. Griggs. A motion was made to accept the above names, and it carried. Then the following resolutions, that had been prepared by the committee, in favor of the selection of W. L. Smith as delegate to the National convention and endorsing the renomination of Hon. R. W. Taylor for congress, was read. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That whereas, believing as we do that the honors at the disposal of the Republican party should be granted to those who have most faithfully served it, and whereas East Liverpool presents a candidate for delegate to the National convention, who is entitled to that distinction by reason of his long, efficacious and heretofore unrequited service to the principles of Republicanism in this county and state, Therefore be it

Resolved, That the delegates from this township heretofore selected to the district convention be, and they are hereby instructed to vote for and to use every honorable effort in their power to insure the election of W. L. Smith of this city as national delegate from this congressional district to the St. Louis convention.

Resolved, That we fully approve of the official acts and utterances of Hon. Robert W. Taylor, of this county, who so ably represents this district in the congress of the United States. That we heartily endorse him for the high position that he holds, and instruct our congressional delegates to give to him their undivided support to that end.

The resolutions were adopted as read, and the meeting adjourned, everybody feeling that the deliberations of the caucus were characterized by good judgment.

After the caucus had closed, the central committee met and selected Saturday, March 21, as the day on which the primaries will be held. It was decided that all candidates must hand their names in to the committee on or before Wednesday, March 11, at 7 p. m. The date set will make the city primaries come just one week before the county ticket is nominated, and will insure a lively time among the Republicans of the city for the entire month. The meeting was harmonious and the date was selected without discussion.

SAID HE SWORE AT HER.

A Warrant Issued for the Arrest of Charles Coulson.

Mrs. M. Jacobs, of Franklin avenue, appeared before Mayor Gilbert last night and made complaint against Charles Coulson, charging him with using indecent language and calling her bad names. A warrant was issued for Coulson's arrest, but he came down to city hall and gave himself up before it was served. The mayor arraigned him and he pleaded not guilty and will stand trial. The time of hearing has not been set yet. Coulson was released upon security being given by a friend.

A lad named Owen was arrested by Officer Jennings last night on the street. He was performing a series of evolutions, highly edifying to a group of interested spectators who had gathered to witness the scene. The minion of the law chanced in that direction and deemed it expedient to place the versatile Owens in a more congenial place, as the amount of fire water that he had partaken of previously in the evening threatened to materially impair the equilibrium of the aforesaid youngster. He has not been arraigned yet.

WARMED HIM UP.

A Keen Witted "Drummer" Objects to Being Classed With Peddlers.

The following communication, coming from a member of a fraternity or class known all over the world as hustlers, is worthy of publication. It is written in neat manner and style and is couched in courteous tones, but brimming over with independence, a characteristic common to the class the writer represents. Had he been just a little better posted in orthography, we would not have found it necessary to correct his subject matter before passing it to the compositor:

"You have in your paper of today under heading, 'She Warmed Him Up,' some mud throwing on which we, as commercial travelers or 'drummers,' draw the line. People that visit the consumer to dispose of wares they have for sale are known as 'peddlers,' not 'drummers,' as you term them. The men that are representing the manufacturing and mercantile houses in this broad land today are men that will average in ability and respectability with any class of men that are favored with a business that confines them to the confines of their own town, Liverpool included. We respectfully ask you to put us in the proper light with the people of your community, and in the future don't be so ready to throw mud at our fraternity without first finding out whether the offender is a commercial traveler, a 'drummer,' or, as in 99 cases out of 100, a peddler. You can publish this or not, as you please, but it is written by a member of the fraternity who are known as 'drummers.' Respectfully Yours, W. S. DOUGLASS."

MRS. MARTIN DISCHARGED.

The Lady Gives Her Account of Leaving the Postoffice.

Mrs. D. B. Martin is no longer an employe in the postoffice of East Liverpool, as she severed her connection with that institution last evening at the request or demand of Postmaster M. E. Miskall. Mrs. Martin was interviewed by a News Review reporter this afternoon, at her home on Washington street, and gave about the following as her explanation of the matter:

"My discharge was peremptory and I was permitted no appeal. My fault was in committing an error in a report, a simple matter, and one which could have been easily remedied and caused no one material inconvenience. I have served the government faithfully and intelligently for the past 10 years and have made but very few mistakes or errors, and I think I should have been treated more courteously than I was by Postmaster Miskall. I was very curtly told not to come on duty this morning, and the remark was made at the same time that the office would be weeded out."

FILED AN ACTION TODAY.

The Old Eclipse Baseball Case In Court Again.

LISBON, Feb. 13.—W. T. Smith took steps in court this morning to recover from G. Y. Travis a judgment which was given him at the May term of court against a number of the Eclipse baseball club. The judgment was for $465.60, due for the grand stand erected on the ball ground the previous summer. The other members held responsible for its payment are insolvent. The petition asks the court to appoint a receiver to take charge of Travis' affairs.

Joseph W. Geon was fined $40 for selling liquor to a minor.

Timothy Strain, who, it will be remembered, robbed Doctor Locke of silverware four or five years ago, turned up last night and was arrested. He will be held until the parties prosecuting can be heard from.

An Infant Dead.

A two-months-old child of Samuel Vauk, of Washington street, died this morning from an attack of spinal meningitis. The remains will be taken to Long's Run tomorrow for interment.

NONE BUT ATTORNEYS

Shall Act as Solicitors For Corporations.

SO SAYS THE BILL JUST PASSED

The Measure Was Introduced In the House by P. M. Ashford Several Days Ago and Caused Much Discussion Yesterday, but Finally Passed.

The Cleveland Leader, in speaking of the bill introduced by P. M. Ashford in regard to solicitors, says the following:

"Patriotism, sarcasm and slow-pokeism figured prominently in the proceedings of the house this morning, and the result was that the wheels of progress did not turn very rapidly, only two little bills being passed. There was a furious debate upon a bill introduced by Mr. Ashford, of Columbiana, amending the law relating to solicitors of corporations, so that none but attorneys-at-law shall be eligible to election. This bill was defeated several days ago, when only a few members were present, but it was led out again today for reconsideration and was passed. Several members antagonized the bill. Mr. Hutcheson, who is Mr. Ashford's colleague from Columbiana, attacked the bill in his characteristic manner. He assailed it vigorously on the ground that it was a scheme to force the people to vote for a lawyer. He didn't think much of lawyers as a rule anyway, and his experience had been that lawyers in such positions were apt to involve the county in more serious trouble than solicitors who were selected from the common people.

"Mr. Star, of Williams, did not propose to be forced to vote for a lawyer. He regarded it as an insult to Williams county intelligence for the legislature to say whether a lawyer or doctor or ditch digger should be elected to office. He wanted liberty for himself and liberty for Williams county. His forefathers fought through the Revolutionary war, and they spilled some of their blood in Valley Forge. Some of the same blood still coursed through his veins, and that blood would never be enslaved without a contest. Mr. Starr voted a vigorous 'no' on the bill, but it passed by a large majority."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Lewis Barth Gets Caught in a Shaft Yesterday.

Lewis Barth, employed at the Union pottery as a mould runner, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. He was working about the shaft, which runs under his work bench, when his apron caught and he was dragged in. He was carried around the shaft two or three times, while another employe ran to the engine room and stopped the engine. The young man was picked up and conveyed to his home on Bradshaw avenue in a carriage and a physician summoned. When examined it was found that no bones had been broken, although bruises on his body were quite numerous. The shock will cause his absence from duty a few days only.

CAPTURED THE FLOWERS.

Percy Frost Captured the Bouquet at the Banquet.

Percy Frost was the envied of all observers at the Lincoln banquet last night, as he was the recipient of an exquisite button hole bouquet, at the hands of a pair of charming maidens. As the beautiful flowers were placed in the lapel of the artist's coat, the audience rose en-masse and applauded to the echo, while Percy blushed like unto the damsel of sweet sixteen, as she submits to the first kiss of her sweetheart. Jason H. Brookes was a competitor for the floral offering, but the young ladies discovered that he is a married man, the father of a large family, and the eloquent attorney was not in the swim.

ALABAMA.

Preparations Being Made For Its Production.

The stage hands are making preparations for their benefit, which will be held at the Grand on Tuesday, March 3. Calcium lights will be used, which will add greatly to the beauty of the scenery carried by the company. Tickets are being sold by all the employes on the stage and are being rapidly taken. The reputation gained by "Alabama" when produced in this city the first of the season insures the boys a large house, it being without doubt one of the finest attractions ever produced in this city.

Granted a Pension.

Henry Thompson, of this city, has been granted a pension by the department at Washington.

UNION LABEL

For President,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

The legal fraternity is well represented in the McKinley club of East Liverpool.

SHALL it be Boone, Martin or Clark who will occupy the chair of the probate judge in the coming election?

The Lincoln banquet was a success from every standpoint—an occasion long to be remembered with pleasure and delight. Full particulars can be gleaned elsewhere in our columns.

REPRESENTATIVE ASHFORD is evidently keeping a bright lookout in favor of the legal fraternity. The limbs of the law should present him with a testimonial. Representative Hutcheson is strongly "for" his colleague in this particular.

A cable has been received from the National Sporting club of London offering a purse of £1,500 for a fight between Fitzsimmons and Maher and allowing each £100 pounds for training expenses. This offer stands in case no fight is pulled off.

"The chances of the fight coming off are good, however, despite the declaration of the governor of Chihuahua and the American officials," calmly insists Stuart, "according to schedule."

And there is no doubt that he is making every effort and will continue up to the last minute to do his utmost to bring it off. He insists that everything is ready and that no interruption will be forthcoming.

Fitzsimmons is in the best of condition and capable of making the fight of his life. Reports from Las Cruces are to the effect that Maher has completed his training and also is in excellent shape. It is expected he and his party will leave the training quarters today and come to El Paso, where he can be ready to start for the battleground at a moment's notice. The pugilists of less note are hard at work.

Al Smith the well-known sporting man of New York, has arrived today. He will represent Corbett at the ring-side, but he will issue no challenges. However, if any defiances are hurled at the erstwhile champion he will be prepared to answer them.

Manuel Banchero, the Mexican collector of customs at Juarez, says: "If the fighters bring any tents or ropes into Mexico they will be smuggling, and, in addition to what they may suffer from the military authorities, they are liable to six months in jail. If they get in and get out again without being caught we can do nothing."

Some of the soldiers at Fort Bliss, who were to leave on a practice march, have been ordered to remain. It is believed they will be used to help stop the fight.

The governor of Arizona has ordered out the militia to prevent the fight in that territory.

DILLON TAUNTS SALISBURY.

England Forced to Quit Her Warlike Talk by the United States.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—In the house of commons the debate on the address in reply to the queen's speech was resumed. Mr. John Dillon, member of parliament for East Mayo, anti-Parliamentary, said that not long ago there was a great deal of talk about British ships blowing up American cities. Such language, he added, had happily ceased.

BOB'S EYES HUNG OUT.

General Mabry Gives Fitzsimmons a Bad Scare.

BULLETS FOR THE STAR PUGS

First, If They Attempt to Fight on Texas Soil — Authorities of Both Countries Combined to Prevent the Fight — Stuart Still Is Confident.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 13.—It is practically plain that Adjutant General Mabry of Texas, General Ahumada of Chihuahua and the United States marshal have an understanding as to what each will do toward preventing the fights. The governor is still bringing troops into Juarez. He declares that under no circumstances will he allow the fight to take place in Mexico. If the men attempt it and resist arrest he will shoot them down.

Adjutant General Mabry has given Fitzsimmons a scare that sent the lanky Australian to Stuart with eyes hanging out. General Mabry called at Fitzsimmons' quarters in Juarez and informed him that no matter where he went, no matter where the fight took place, some of the State Rangers would be with him. If he attempted to fight on Texas soil, General Mabry declared, the Rangers would at once open fire and pay the principals in the fight the distinguished honor of trying to kill them first of all. Fitzsimmons at once hurried over to El Paso and declared his antipathy to being shot and demanded absolute protection without which he would not fight at all. He and Stuart held a long conversation, and at its close Fitzsimmons mounted his wheel, and, with apparently easy mind, started to his quarters, saying he is satisfied to take the chances.

General Mabry informed Dan Stuart that when the train or flatboat or balloon or whatever it is to be that is to convey the pugilists from this city to the battleground pulled out he would be there without a ticket and all his rangers would attend the fight. Stuart readily acquiesced, saying that he was willing they should go along and keep him out of Texas.

Eugene Mailfert, surveyor of the state of Chihuahua has a large force of men at work establishing a line between New Mexico and Mexico. In that region there is a stretch of territory, which is in dispute between the United States and Mexico. The line will be recognized by both Mexican soldiers and Americans.

A cable has been received from the National Sporting club of London offering a purse of £1,500 for a fight between Fitzsimmons and Maher and allowing each £100 pounds for training expenses. This offer stands in case no fight is pulled off.

and the English people had learned that President Cleveland's message was not an election dodge, but spoke the voice of the American nation, which was not afraid to face the arbitrament of war if the English refused arbitration.

But arbitration was to be accepted now after America had been forced to threaten. It would have been more decent if Great Britain had accepted arbitration when Secretary Olney suggested it. He warned the government in conclusion, that the Irish party would resist to the utmost any idea of war between Great Britain and the United States.

Germans Back of Jameson's Raid.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a Berlin dispatch which says that leading personages there are in possession of convincing evidence that the Jameson raid was wholly instigated and the expense defrayed by six well-known financiers, formerly German subjects, and without the knowledge of the Chartered South Africa company.

Several Tramps Probably Killed.

GALLIPOLIS, Feb. 13.—Near Duxton, on the Kanawha and Michigan railroads, ten cars loaded with lumber and a handcar, jumped the track. Before the accident ten tramps were seen on the cars and afterward three of them were found. It is believed that the other seven were killed and are buried under the wreck.

A Lynching in Indiana.

DECATUR, Ills., Feb. 13.—Grant Atterbury has been lynched at Sullivan, Ind. Fifteen masked men broke open the jail and hung him in the courthouse yard. He died declaring that he was innocent of the crime of outraging his sister-in-law, Mrs. Roxy Atterbury.

To Prevent Jameson's Arrest.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—It is rumored that the sudden departure of Hon. Cecil Rhodes from England was due to the desire to forestall a detective whom the government had sent with a warrant to formally arrest Dr. Jameson so as to prevent anyone seeing him.

GLASGOW, Feb. 13.—The Herald of this city says it learns that Mr. Gladstone is greatly inclined to stand again for parliament at the first available opportunity in order to support the Armenians.

Injured by Dynamite.

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—Thomas Wallace and Coleman Donahue have been probably fatally injured by the accidental explosion of a dynamite cartridge in a trench where they were working.

Still Balloting at Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 13.—The senatorial ballot resulted: Hunter, 62; Blackburn, 61; scattering, 9.

WILD ENTHUSIASM OVER MCKINLEY.

The Ohioan Guest of Honor at the Chicago Lincoln Banquet.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—When William McKinley arose to speak last night at the banquet in the Auditorium, given by the Marquette club in commemoration of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, 1,500 men cheered the Ohioan with the vehemence of enthusiastic admiration. They got up on chairs and the air was filled with the flutter of handkerchiefs and vibrating with the tumult of voices. Men cheered till they were exhausted with the effort, and rested and cheered again.

The guest of honor was Mr. McKinley. He spoke to the toast, "Abraham Lincoln."

The occasion was particularly notable as the first public appearance of Ohio's famous son in another state since his return from the governorship to the position of a private citizen.

Among those at the speaker's table beside Mr. McKinley were the Republican governor of Wisconsin and the Republican governor of Nebraska and North Carolina.

At every reference to the name of McKinley or the word "protection" outbursts of cheering followed. The address of the ex-governor was a magnificent piece of oratory.

Among the others speakers were United States Senators Thurston and Pritchard and Governor W. H. Upham of Wisconsin.

Lincoln Banquet at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—The ninth annual Lincoln banquet of the Ohio Republican league was held at the Chittenden hotel last night. It was a very elaborate affair and it was midnight before the speeches began. About 300 covers were laid. Letters of regret were read from ex-President Harrison, Speaker Reed, Governor Morton, Senator W. B. Allison and Major McKinley. The guest of honor was Hon. Webster Davis, of Missouri, who responded to the toast, "Abraham Lincoln."

Depew and Foraker Spoke.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The tenth annual Lincoln dinner of the Republican club was held at Delmonico's last night. Elihu Root, president of the club, presided. Among those invited to sit at the guest table were Chauncey M. Depew, Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio, Mayor Strong, Seth Low and others. Dr. Depew and Foraker were the principal speakers.

SPANISH REPORT TWO VICTORIES.

They Say They Twice Whipped Rebels in Santa Clara Province.

HAVANA, Feb. 13.—A dispatch received here from Santa Clara, capital of the province of that name, from General Oliver, the Spanish commander in that district, announces a serious defeat of the insurgents under Serafin Sanchez and Mirabel, two of the most important insurgent leaders outside of the province of Havana.

Other dispatches say that the column of Spanish troops commanded by General Godoy has defeated the combined insurgent forces commanded by Lacer and Nunez, at Santa Clara, killing 14 men and wounding many others.

A Vote on Admitting Territories.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A vote has been had by the committee on territories on the Arizona and New Mexico enabling bills. There was not a full committee present, and, while it is understood that the majority vote was adverse to the measures, several members who were absent are understood to favor the proposition. Another vote will be had at the next meeting of the committee.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEB. 13.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

THE legal fraternity is well represented in the McKinley club of East Liverpool.

SHALL it be Boone, Martin or Clark who will occupy the chair of the probate judge in the coming election?

THE Lincoln banquet was a success
from every standpoint—an occasion long to be remembered with pleasure and delight. Full particulars can be gathered elsewhere in our columns.

REPRESENTATIVE ASHFORD is evidently keeping a bright lookout in favor of the legal fraternity. The limbs of the law should present him with a testimonial. Representative Hutcheson is strongly "forinst" his colleague in this particular.

THE prophet of Mount Pisgah made a neat and happy and telling little speech at the Lincoln banquet last night. It was short, pithy and full of good common sense, interspersed with sterling patriotism, and the speaker was the recipient of hearty applause.

BOODLE POLITICS.

A prominent politician, a resident of East Liverpool, has placed himself upon record as stating, in the presence of numerous witnesses, that the boulder is numerous in Columbiana county, asserting that, at different points during his travels, while he was engaged in soliciting the votes of his fellow citizens, the ready hand, longing to gather in filthy lucre, was eagerly stretched out in his direction.
This is, and has been, the common state of affairs, and it is shameful in a marked degree. Any citizen of East Liverpool, keen witted and observant of surroundings, has noticed that, in municipal and county elections which have been held in this section, liquor has been on top at numerous points in the city, and the imbibers partook thereof without money and without price, at the expense of the candidate, too eager for office to care much how he obtains the coveted position, merely taking ordinary care to cover the shameful methods employed. Further, it is an open secret that we have birds of prey, vampires, in the shape of pot house politicians and ward heelers, who fatten their purses at the expense of candidates, and we have, in East Liverpool, well authenticated cases where these blots upon manhood have accepted money from a too-confiding office seeker, and then accepted similar sums from the man who was diametrically opposed to said candidate. It has been history, and will be, until a few of the rascals are brought up with a short turn and be permitted to play checkers with their nose.

BULLETS FOR THE STAR PUGS

First, If They Attempt to Fight on Texas
Soil—Authorities of Both Countries
Combined to Prevent the Fight—Stuart Still is Confident.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 13.—It is practically plain that Adjutant General Mabry
of Texas, General Ahumada of Chihuahua and the United States marshal have an understanding as to what each will do toward preventing the fights.
The governor is still bringing troops into Juarez. He declares that under no circumstances will he allow the fight to take place in Mexico. If the men attempt it and resist arrest he will shoot them down.

Adjutant General Mabry has given Fitzsimmons a scare that sent the lanky Australian to Stuart with eyes hanging out. General Mabry called at Fitzsimmons' quarters in Juarez and informed him that no matter where he went, no matter where the fight took place, some of the State Rangers would be with him. If he attempted to fight on Texas soil, General Mabry declared, the Rangers would at once open fire and pay the principals in the fight the distinguished honor of trying to kill them first of all. Fitzsimmons at once hurried over to El Paso and declared his antipathy to being shot and demanded absolute protection without which he would not fight at all. He and Stuart held a long conversation, and at its close Fitzsimmons mounted his wheel, with apparently easy mind, started to his quarters, saying he is satisfied to take the chances.

General Mabry informed Dan Stuart that when the train or flatboat or balloon or whatever it is to be that is to convey the pugilists from this city to the battleground pulled out he would be there without a ticket and all his rangers would attend the fight. Stuart readily acquiesced, saying that he was willing they should go along and keep him out of Texas.

Eugene Maifert, surveyor of the state of Chihuahua has a large force of men at work establishing a line between New Mexico and Mexico. In that region there is a stretch of territory, which is in dispute between the United States and Mexico. The line will be recognized by both Mexican soldiers and Americans.

A cable has been received from the National Sporting club of London offering a purse of £1,500 for a fight between Fitzsimmons and Maher and allowing each £100 pounds for training expenses.
This offer stands in case no fight is pulled off.

"The chances of the fight coming off are good, however, despite the declaration of the governor of Chihuahua and the American officials," calmly insists Stuart, "according to schedule.
And there is no doubt that he is making every effort and will continue up to the last minute to do his utmost to bring it off. He insists that everything is ready and that no interruption will be forthcoming."

Fitzsimmons is in the best of condition and capable of making the fight of his life. Reports from Las Cruces are to the effect that Maher has completed his training and also is in excellent shape. It is expected he and his party will leave the training quarters today and come to El Paso, where he can be ready to start for the battleground at a moment's notice. The pugilists of less note are hard at work.

Al Smith, the well-known sporting man of New York, has arrived today.
He will represent Corbett at the ringside, but he will issue no challenges.
However, if any defiances are hurled at the erstwhile champion he will be prepared to answer them.

Mannet Banche, the Mexican collector of customs at Juarez, says: "If the fighters bring any tents or ropes into Mexico they will be smuggling, and, in addition to what they may suffer from the military authorities, they are liable to six months in jail. If they get in and get out again without being caught we can do nothing."

Some of the soldiers at Fort Bliss,
who were to leave on a practice march,
have been ordered to remain. It is believed they will be used to help stop the fight.

The governor of Arizona has ordered out the militia to prevent the fight in that territory.

reply to the queen's speech was resumed. Mr. John Dillon, member of parliament for East Mayo, anti-Parnellite, said that not long ago there was a great deal of talk about British ships blowing up American cities. Such language, he added, had happily ceased.

House Foreign Committeemen
Want Them Recognized.

MAY SO REPORT TO THE HOUSE.

They Will Likely Frame a Resolution
Requesting the President to Issue a Proclamation Recognizing the Insurgents as Belligerents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The most important portions of the Cuban correspondence have been printed and will receive preliminary consideration at the regular meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the house today. The sentiment of the chairman, Mr. Hitt, and of other members of the committee is in favor of a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the house that a state of war exists in Cuba and requesting the president to issue his proclamation according to the insurgents belligerent rights.
Mr. Sulzer of New York, who has given the Cuban situation much attention, says that congress cannot grant belligerent rights, or at least that it has been the universal practice of the executive to issue a proclamation recognizing a state of war and according revolutionary rights to the rebels. This was done in the case of Colombia, Venezuela and Argentina. "The granting of belligerent rights," said he, "only recognizes the existence of a state of war and a state of war exists as soon as an uprising gets beyond the control of the authorities. Such an uprising certainly reaches the dignity of war when its participants are unable to restore order and protect property. The correspondence shows beyond question in an official way that Spain, after a struggle of almost a year, has been unable to do either. The recognition of the independence of the Cubans could not come until they had created a government and had indicated their ability to maintain it in the discharge of the functions of the government."

BERING SEA SEIZURES.

The Arbitration Treaty Being Considered
by the Senate Foreign Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The convention between the government of the United States and that of Great Britain for the arbitration of claims for damages made on account of the Bering sea sealing vessel seizures has been received by the senate in executive session and was considered by the committee on foreign relations. The treaty is a brief document signed by Secretary Olney on the part of the United States and by Sir Julian Pauncefote for Great Britain.
It provides for the reference of claims to two commissioners, one to be appointed by the United States and the other by Great Britain, who in case of a failure to agree, are to be authorized to select a third commissioner. If not able to agree upon a man for this office,
the matter is to be referred to the president of the Swiss republic, with the request that he name the third man, which he has consented to do. The agreement is made in conformity with the Paris arbitration and its findings are made obligatory upon both governments.

As submitted the treaty only provides for the payment of damages by the United States for vessels engaged in seal catching belonging to citizens of Great Britain, but a disposition has already manifested itself in committee to amend it so as to provide also for the arbitration of claims which may arise on the part of the United States for seizures of American vessels made by Great Britain and the probabilities are that such an amendment will be made in committee.

A GOVERNMENT CANAL.

Idea of the House Committee About the Nicaragua Waterway.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The subcommittee of the house committee on commerce is considering the report of the Nicaragua canal commission. The general impression is that the estimate of the commission for the completion of the work ($136,000,000) is entirely too high.
It is probable that the Morgan bill, which was before the senate in the last congress, will form the basis of the bill to be prepared. The guarantee of the bonds of the company to an extent not exceeding $100,000,000 will be the main proposition. The government will secure the majority of the stock and be insured a perpetual majority of the directorate. The bill will also provide for the prosecution of the work under the inspection of government engineers, and will provide for complete supervision, auditing, etc., of all accounts by the treasury department.

The Senate Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The entire session was given to routine business.
Considerable progress was made on the deficiency bill and the item of Federal court expenses brought out strong criticisms from Mr. Chandler, Mr. Tillman and Mr. Vest against the fee system.
A resolution introduced by Mr. Pepper calls for an investigation of recent bond sales.

Still Discussing the Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The house spent another day in the discussion of the silver bond bill. The feature was the speech of Mr. McHenry (Rep., Minn.), who used to illustrate his remarks, the charts previously employed by Mr. Towne, from his own state and by them sought to refute the arguments in favor of free silver.

An Ohio Man Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Democratic senators have held a caucus of two and one-half hours' duration, called for the purpose of affording an opportunity for consultation upon the election of an assistant doorkeeper. The caucus resulted in a unanimous endorsement of Mr. Bernard Layton of Ohio for the office.

Tariff Bill Still Delayed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The friends of the tariff bill in the senate have found it expedient to change their plans somewhat, and instead of taking up the tariff immediately will postpone its consideration until after the appropriation bills, which have been reported from the committee, shall be disposed of.

DRUGGED AND THEN BEHEADED.

The Coroner's Verdict Regarding Pearl
Bryan's Murder—Killed in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—The full text of the verdict of the coroner's jury in the Bryan case is as follows:

"We, the jury, find: First—That the headless body found at Fort Thomas district, on the premises of John B.
Lock, Campbell county, Ky., is that of Pearl Bryan of Greenleaf, Ind."
"Second—We find that cocaine had been administered to Pearl Bryan for purposes unknown."
"Third—We further find from the evidence that the decapitation was performed while there was life in the body and at the point where the body was found."

"Fourth—From the evidence presented we find that Pearl Bryan, Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling were all last seen together on Friday, Jan. 31, 1896, between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock p. m., on the northeast corner of George and Plum streets, Cincinnati, O., and entered a cab and left together, driving west on George to Plum and south on Plum toward Sixth street."

The evidence as to the cocaine was by Dr. W. H. Crane of Cincinnati, who has not yet quite completed an analysis of Miss Bryan's stomach contents.
As to the decapitation at the place where the body was found, the testimony of the bushes nearby was introduced. Twigs and leaves cut from these bushes, the morning the body was found, showed bloodstains on the lower side at heights of from two to six feet from the ground. One witness testified that he found footprints made by a woman's shoe under an apple tree near where the body lay.

Dr. Caruthers, who held the post-mortem, gave the opinion before the jury that decapitation was performed
where the body was found, while there was still life in the body. It was done with a sharp knife, or more probably with a surgeon's scalpel.

This will place the prisoners under the jurisdiction of the Kentucky courts.

THAT CHICAGO MONUMENT.

The Massachusetts G. A. R. Commander
Still Aroused About It.

LOWELL, Mass., Feb. 13.—In the course of his address at the annual encampment of the Massachusetts Grand Army of the Republic Commander Thayer alluded to the dedication of a Confederate monument in Chicago on last memorial day. He said:

"The lesson taught by the monument is an erroneous one; this statue of a Confederate soldier, which they placed upon it, was a wasted body, intended as an implication that our government maltreated its prisoners, is a standing falsehood, and the dedication of the memorial upon a day which we have set apart for memorial services in honor of our fallen comrades was an insult to every man who wore the blue."
"My protest was sustained by the posts of this department and by thousands of loyal men all over the country.
Do not let them use the monument at Chicago as an entering wedge for other cities of the loyal north."

A NEW JACK THE RIPPER.

Women Mysteriously Murdered and Others Abused in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—The police are inclined to believe there is a stranger in this city whose mania is to equal, or possibly eclipse the record of London's notorious "Jack the Ripper." Within the last few days a young girl on Morton street has been strangled to death by an unknown assassin, and several other women in the same vicinity have been beaten, stabbed and strangled, in each of the latter cases the assailant escaping without leaving a trace by which he could be detected.

The night prior to the murder of "Little May Smith," a man bearing the appearance of a thug entered the room of a young girl who had assumed the name of Lulu Taber on Morton street,
but she raised the alarm and he escaped.

Venezuela to Open Negotiations.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—It is announced from a good source that following the difficulties of making change he inserted
in the bill a section authorizing the coinage of the silver 3-cent piece, which remained until repealed by the coinage
law of 1873.

Street Car Line Consolidation.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—It is believed
that the two existing companies, which
now control every street railway in this city, both electric and cable, will be consolidated before summer ends, and
that no less a person than Harry A.
Everett, who for several months past
has been so valiantly fighting to obtain
a franchise for a system of electric
roads in the city on a 3-cent fare basis,
as against 5 cents charged by the old
companies, will be one of the principal
parties to the consolidation.

Striking Shoemakers at Work Again.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The 40 striking
shoemakers of the Kennard Shoe company have returned to work on a compromise settlement. The 200 striking riveters of the King Bridge company also returned to their places, the two discharged men, about whom the dispute
occurred, having decided to take their cases into the courts.

Poolroom Proprietors Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—Messrs. Simon-
ton & Co., Sharp & Co. and Thomas &
Co., proprietors of poolrooms in Cor-
vinton, Ky. have been arrested under indictment by the grand jury, charged
with maintaining a nuisance, perversion
of good morals.

Credit Men Organize.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The credit men
of Cleveland have formed an organization. They sent a request to the credit men of Chicago that they co-operate in calling a national convention in this city as proposed some time ago.

A New Railroad President.

MASSILLON, O., Feb. 13.—The directors of the Wheeling and Lake Erie
railroad have elected Mr. A. G. Blair of Toledo president of that company. Tom
L. Johnson of Cleveland was elected
one of the directors.

ate Measure.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—The bill increasing the Dow tax from $250 to $350 has passed the house after an amendment to increase it to $500 had been defeated.
The house taxation committee heard argument against the direct inheritance tax law, the excise tax law against railroad, telephone and telegraph companies and the Morganthauher tax inquisitor law.

Bills introduced in the senate were:
To reimburse Colonel Coit for his expenses in defending himself in the Washington Court House killing. Coit is given $6,000 for himself and his four attorneys are allowed $6,000 each.
To prevent public officers from accepting railroad passes or telegraph or telephone frank or favor, fixing the penalty
at forfeiture of office.

To permit guaranty companies to become sureties on bonds of assignees, trustees, guardians, executors and administrators.
To allow convictions of violators of municipal ordinances to be appealed to the circuit court and if judgment is set aside the prosecution may appeal to the Supreme court.

Providing that death from abortion shall constitute murder in the first degree; also that mutilation of any murdered person to prevent identification shall be punishable by death.
Bills passed in the senate were:
Making it a felony punishable by from three to ten years to corrupt a juror, referee, arbitrator, umpire, commissioner or appraiser of real estate.
House bill authorizing municipal councils to employ city solicitors to codify city ordinances.
Requiring cheese not made of pure cream or milk to be branded "imitation cheese."

OHIO REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

McKinley Endorsed For President at the League Convention at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—About 150 delegates attended the Ohio State League of Republican clubs convention here. The following officers were elected: President, Charles F. Keach, Cleveland; vice presidents, W. B. Gailbreath, Marietta; S.
M. Fletcher, Lima; C. C. Benedict, Cincinnati; secretary, Samuel Schwartz, Columbus; treasurer, Hon. John L.
Means, Steubenville.

The following delegates-at-large to the National Republican League convention were chosen: D. B. Woodmansee, Cincinnati; F. H. Clifford, Cleveland; J. Howard Edwards,
Youngstown; Hon. C. P. Griffin, Toledo;
F. H. Morris, Cleveland, and Abraham
J. Evans.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing
the last national and state platforms, endorsing the candidacy of Major Mc-Kinley for president and extending sympathy to the Cuban patriots.

JUDGE POTTER DEAD.

He Led the Fight For Cheaper Postage
In Congress.

TOLEDO, Feb. 13.—Judge Emory D.
Potter has died here, aged 92. He had been postmaster, customs collector, common pleas judge and had served in both branches of the legislature and was representative in congress in 1851, where he led the fight for a reduction of postage to 3 cents instead of from 5 to 25 cents according to distance.

Objection being made in the house to the reduction to 3 cents because of the difficulty of making change he inserted
in the bill a section authorizing the coin-
age of the silver 3-cent piece, which remained until repealed by the coinage
law of 1873.

Street Car Line Consolidation.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—It is believed
that the two existing companies, which
now control every street railway in this
city, both electric and cable, will be consolidated before summer ends, and
that no less a person than Harry A.
Everett, who for several months past
has been so valiantly fighting to obtain
a franchise for a system of electric
roads in the city on a 3-cent fare basis,
as against 5 cents charged by the old
companies, will be one of the principal
parties to the consolidation.

Striking Shoemakers at Work Again.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The 40 striking
shoemakers of the Kennard Shoe company have returned to work on a compromise settlement. The 200 striking
riveters of the King Bridge company also returned to their places, the two discharged men, about whom the dispute
occurred, having decided to take their
cases into the courts.

Poolroom Proprietors Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—Messrs. Simon-
ton & Co., Sharp & Co. and Thomas &
Co., proprietors of poolrooms in Cor-
vinton, Ky. have been arrested under
indictment by the grand jury, charged
with maintaining a nuisance, perversion
of good morals.

Credit Men Organize.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The credit men
of Cleveland have formed an organiza-
men of Chicago that they co-operate in
calling a national convention in this

MASSILLON, O., Feb. 13.—The directors of the Wheeling and Lake Erie
railroad have elected Mr. A. G. Blair of Toledo president of that company. Tom
L. Johnson of Cleveland was elected
one of the directors.

To Advance Bar Iron Prices.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The members of the bar iron association are again in secret session here to further consider plans for advancing prices on their product.

Composer Thomas Dead.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Ambroise Thomas, the composer, is dead. He was born in 1811.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

There will be no preaching services in the Second U. P. church, East End, this evening.

Miss Susan Esterly, a teacher in the East End school, is indisposed with an attack of grip.

The Ainsley property on Second street has been sold to Charles Thompson for the sum of $1,200.

A dog fight on Sixth street attracted attention last night. The dogs were separated after much effort.

Mr. Joseph Martin and Miss Rhoda Conkle were married by Justice Rose on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Miss Lulu Hanley has accepted a position in the office of the Knowles,
Taylor & Anderson company, East End.

A young man living on Second street has left home on account of a delicate charge preferred by a young lady of this city.

The bicycle agents are commencing to arrive in town, and predict that the demand for wheels will be greater than every before.

Con Cronin left for Philadelphia yesterday to undergo an operation at a hospital there. Mr. Cronin has been in ill health for some time.

The Buchheit brothers and Ed
Frank were coon hunting in West Virginia last night and succeeded in bagging one coon and three possums.

Since the recent thaw the mud in the suburbs has become much deeper,
and it is almost an impossibility for farmers to get in and out of the city.

Exercises, appropriate for the occasion, were held in all the public schools yesterday afternoon in commemoration of the birth of the martyred Lincoln.

The apparatus for oil drilling has been placed in position on the land leased in Hancock county by Mr. Alison, of this place, and the work of drilling has been commenced.

The rain last night arrested the downward ebb of the river, and the stage of water is increasing. The Hudson passed down last night, and the Ben Hur went up this morning.

Willard Mercer and wife, of Chester, were agreeably surprised at their home last night. A large number of friends, many from this side of the river, called and spent an enjoyable evening.

An accident occurred at the Dresden pottery yesterday. A cog of the machinery in the clay shops gave way and the shafting fell to the floor, doing some damage. Repairs are being made today.

A practice which gives annoyance to people of the city, and which ought to be stopped, is the ringing of door bells or knocking at doors by boys who are simply passing hand bills or program.

Director Morris, of the Young Men's Christian association, says that the boxing class to be started by the association will be private, and not included in the regular course of exercises.

A derrick has been erected across the river for the unloading of stone for the bridge piers. The wretched condition of the roads has delayed the hauling of stone from the Cunningsham quarry.

The hospital association is holding a meeting this afternoon in the Young Men's Christian association rooms, for the purpose of perfecting plans for raising money for the maintenance of a hospital.

Harry Hughes, an aged resident of Ohioville, died at that place yesterday from an attack of kidney trouble. Mr.
Hughes is a brother-in-law of Constable Lyons and the father of Harry Hughes, formerly of this place.

W. J. Terrance, Leon Rich and Edward Johnson went to Alliance today, as delegates from the local lodge, to attend a meeting of the national ritual of the Knights of the Maccabees, in session at that place today and tomorrow.

The summer resort at Frankfort Springs has been purchased by Pittsburg parties, who will transform the property into a sanitarium. This resort was a favorite with many parties from this city.

George Carey has not signed a contract with the Baltimore club yet.
As soon as satisfactory terms are offered he will attach his signature.
The ball players still continue to practice daily, at Bradshaw's hall, and are getting in good condition for the coming season.

The Young Men's Christian association directors met last night, but didn't transact any business, owing to the absence of several of the members of the board. A meeting will be held in the near future for the purpose of settling the plans now on foot to buy the George property.

The association football team, of this city, received a letter yesterday from the West End Athletic club, of Cleveland, asking that they postpone the game scheduled for that city on the 22d of the month. They give, as their reason for canceling, that there are 20 inches of snow on the grounds, and still snowing.

PROFESSIONALS ARE BARRED.
The L. A. W. Wipes Out All Classes,
Will Still Control Racing.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13.—All classes here-before recognized by the League of American Wheelmen have been abolished at the session of the national convention and cycle riders are now in exactly the same category as are all other athletes and sportsmen. In future the league will recognize no grades of amateurs, and any rider who does not live strictly up to the rules governing nonprofessional sport will be placed in the ranks of the professionals. This result was reached by the repeal of all classes in the league constitution creating classes
A and B and defining the status of the men who formerly belonged to them.
The penalty for any act of professionalism will therefore, in the future, be practical expulsion from the league. The result gave the most general satisfaction.

The other important steps of the day were the offer and acceptance of a proposition from Consul Isaac B. Potter of New York to submit to arbitration his law suit against the L. A. W.; growing out of the publication of The Bulletin and which has long been pending in the New York courts; also the refusal of the league to abandon control of racing.

THE CLAIM TO OIL CITY.

Seneca Indians Have Valuable Papers in Their Possession.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—Ancient and important documents brought to this city by two Seneca Indians held by them, place a new phase on the old claim of the descendants of the famous chief, Cornplanter, to a considerable portion of the land upon which Oil City stands.

Chief Clerk Gearhart says there is no doubt in his mind that the Indians have been shamefully treated. However, he cannot find any ground for action by the state any more than in any other case of sale. The commonwealth granted the land to the Indians by patent and then its right in the matter ceased entirely. It has no right to interfere further. The Indians sold a large portion of valuable land to a man named Connelly.

They took his notes in payment, and not being versed in technical law, had no mortgage made out to them. They received not 1 cent of cash in payment;
nothing but the notes. Soon afterward Connelly failed, and the Indians, of course, never received anything. The matter is one deserving rectification, but it seems outside the jurisdiction of the state.

TRIAL OF LENZ'S MURDERERS.

Want Them Recognized.

MAY SO REPORT TO THE HOUSE.

They Will Likely Frame a Resolution
Proclamation Recognizing the Insurgents as Belligerents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The most important portions of the Cuban correspondence have been printed and will receive preliminary consideration at the regular meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the house today. The sentiment of the chairman, Mr. Hitt, and of other members of the committee is in favor of a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the house that a state of war exists in Cuba and requesting the president to issue his proclamation according to the insurgents belligerent rights.

Mr. Sulzer of New York, who has given the Cuban situation much attention, says that congress cannot grant belligerent rights, or at least that it has been the universal practice of the executive to issue a proclamation recognizing a state of war and according revolutionists the right of belligerents. This was done in the case of Colombia, Venezuela and Argentina.

"The granting of belligerent rights," said he, "only recognizes the existence of a state of war and a state of war exists as soon as an uprising gets beyond the control of the authorities. Such an uprising certainly reaches the dignity of war when its participants are unable to restore order and protect property. The correspondence shows beyond question in an official way that Spain, after a struggle of almost a year, has been unable to do either. The recognition of the independence of the Cubans could not come until they had created a government and had indicated their ability to maintain it in the discharge of the functions of the government."

BERING SEA SEIZURES.

by the Senate Foreign Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The convention between the government of the United States and that of Great Britain for the arbitration of claims for damages made on account of the Bering sea sealing vessel seizures has been received by the senate in executive session and was considered by the committee on foreign relations. The treaty is a brief document signed by Secretary Olney on the part of the United States and by Sir Julian Pauncefote for Great Britain.

It provides for the reference of claims to two commissioners, one to be appointed by the United States and the other by Great Britain, who in case of a failure to agree, are to be authorized to select a third commissioner. If not able to agree upon a man for this office, the matter is to be referred to the president of the Swiss republic, with the request that he name the third man, which he has consented to do. The agreement is made in conformity with the Paris arbitration and its findings are made obligatory upon both governments.

As submitted the treaty only provides for the payment of damages by the United States for vessels engaged in seal catching belonging to citizens of Great Britain, but a disposition has already manifested itself in committee to amend it so as to provide also for the arbitration of claims which may arise on the part of the United States for seizures of American vessels made by Great Britain and the probabilities are that such an amendment will be made in committee.

A NEW CANAL.

Nicaragua Waterway.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The subcommittee of the house committee on commerce is considering the report of the Nicaragua canal commission. The general impression is that the estimate of the work ($136,000,000) is entirely too high. It is probable that the Morgan bill, which was before the senate in the last congress, will form the basis of the bill to be prepared. The guarantee of the bonds of the company to an extent not exceeding $100,000,000 will be the main proposition. The government will secure the majority of the stock and be insured a perpetual majority of the directors. The bill will also provide for the prosecution of the work under the inspection of government engineers, and will provide for complete supervision, auditing, etc., of all accounts by the treasury department.

The Senate Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The entire session was given to routine business. Considerable progress was made on the deficiency bill and the item of Federal court expenses brought out strong criticisms from Mr. Chandler, Mr. Tillman and Mr. Vest against the fee system. A resolution introduced by Mr. Pepper calls for an investigation of recent bond sales.

Still Discussing the Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The house spent another day in the discussion of the silver bond bill. The features were the speech of Mr. McClure (Rep., Minn.), who used to illustrate his remarks, the charts previously employed, by Mr. Towne, from his own state and by them sought to refute the arguments in favor of free silver.

An Ohio Man Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Democratic senators have held a caucus of two and one-half hours' duration, called for the purpose of affording an opportunity for consultation upon the election of an assistant doorkeeper. The caucus resulted in a unanimous endorsement of Mr. Bernard Layton of Ohio for the office.

Tariff Bill Still Delayed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The friends of the tariff bill in the senate have found it expedient to change their plans somewhat, and instead of taking up the tariff immediately will postpone its consideration until after the appropriation bills, which have been reported from the committee, shall be disposed of.

DRUGGED AND THEN BEHEADED.

Bryan's Murder—Killed in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—The full text of the verdict of the coroner's jury in the Bryan case is as follows:

"We, the jury, find: First—That the headless body found at Fort Thomas district, on the premises of John B. Lock, Campbell county, Ky., is that of Pearl Bryan of Greenacres, Ind."

"Second—We find that cocaine had been administered to Pearl Bryan for purposes unknown."

"Third—We further find from the evidence that the decapitation was performed while there was life in the body and at the point where the body was found."

"Fourth—From the evidence presented we find that Pearl Bryan, Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling were all last seen together on Friday, Jan. 31, 1896, between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock p. m., on the northeast corner of George and Plum streets, Cincinnati, O., and entered a cab and left together, driving west on George to Plum and south on Plum toward Sixth street."

"The evidence as to the cocaine was by Dr. W. H. Crane of Cincinnati, who has not yet quite completed an analysis of Miss Bryan's stomach contents."

As to the decapitation at the place where the body was found, the testimony of the bushes nearby was introduced. Twigs and leaves cut from these bushes, the morning the body was found, showed bloodstains on the lower side at heights of from two to six feet from the ground. One witness testified that he found footprints made by a woman's shoe under an apple tree near where the body lay.

Dr. Caruthers, who held the post-mortem, gave the opinion before the jury that decapitation was performed where the body was found, while there was still life in the body. It was done with a sharp knife, or more probably with a surgeon's scalpel.

This will place the prisoners under the jurisdiction of the Kentucky courts.

THAT CHICAGO MONUMENT.

Still Aroused About It.

LOWELL, Mass., Feb. 13.—In the course of his address at the annual encampment of the Massachusetts Grand Army of the Republic Commander Thayer alluded to the dedication of a Confederate monument in Chicago on last memorial day. He said:

"The lesson taught by the monument is an erroneous one; this statue of a Confederate soldier, which they placed upon it, in rags with wasted body, intended as an implication that our government maltreated its prisoners, is a standing falsehood, and the dedication of the memorial upon a day which we have set apart for memorial services in honor of our fallen comrades was an insult to every man who wore the blue."

"My protest was sustained by the posts of this department and by thousands of loyal men all over the country. Do not let them use the monument at Chicago as an entering wedge for other cities of the loyal north."

A NEW JACK THE RIPPER.

Others Abused in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—The police are inclined to believe there is a stranger in this city whose mania is to equal, or possibly eclipse the record of London's notorious "Jack the Ripper." Within the last few days a young girl on Morton street has been strangled to death by an unknown assassin, and several other women in the same vicinity have been beaten, stabbed and strangled, in each of the latter cases the assailant escaping without leaving a trace by which he could be detected.

The night prior to the murder of "Little May Smith," a man bearing the appearance of a thug entered the room of a young girl who had assumed the name of Lulu Taber on Morton street, but she raised the alarm and he escaped.

Venezuela to Open Negotiations.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—It is announced from a good source that following the advice of the United States, Venezuela has practically decided to send a representative to London with power to open direct negotiations with the government of Great Britain for a settlement of the boundary dispute between British Guiana and Venezuela.

Son of a Chief Justice Sentenced.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—H. Dean, a son of the chief justice of the supreme court of the British possessions in Africa, has pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in Judge Dunn's court. He begged hard for clemency and the court agreed to recommend his discharge when he had served one year with good behavior.

Accused of Murdering Prof. Egliu.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—William and James Fitzgerald, brothers, aged respectively 20 and 18 years, have been held for the murder of Prof. Max Egliu, in the institution for the improved instruction of deaf mutes. Some of his property was found in their possession.

A Ladies' Bicycle Race.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Billy Madden announces he has arranged a ladies' six day international bicycle race between representatives of the United States, France and England to begin at the Royal Westminster Aquarium in London on April 20 next.

Actor Gentry's Trial Fixed.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—The trial of Actor F. Gentry for the murder of actress Margaret M. Drysdale, "Madge York," has been fixed for Feb. 20. Gentry shot and killed Miss York in Zeiss' hotel on the night of Feb. 17, 1895.

Formosans Eating the Japs.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 13.—Dreadful stories come from Yokokama of the treatment of Japanese by Formosan rebels, some correspondents going so far as to say that the Chinese practice cannibalism.

A Discharged Workman Suspected.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 13.—The Somerset Stone Foundry company's works in Somerset have been destroyed by fire. A discharged workman is suspected of starting it.

Composer Thomas Dead.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Ambroise Thomas, the composer, is dead. He was born in 1811.

INCREASING DOW TAX.

A Bill Passes the House Raising It to $350.

BILL TO REIMBURSE COL. COIT.

One Introduced in the Senate to Pay His Trial Expenses—Death From Abortion a First Degree Murder in a Senate Measure.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—The bill increasing the Dow tax from $250 to $350 has passed the house after an amendment to increase it to $500 had been defeated. The house taxation committee heard argument against the direct inheritance tax law, the excise tax law against railroad, telegraph and telephone companies and the Morgenthau tax inquisitor law.

Bills introduced in the senate were:

To reimburse Colonel Coit for his expenses in defending himself in the murder trial growing out of the Washington Court House killing. Coit is given $6,000 for himself and his four attorneys are allowed $6,000 each.

To prevent public officers from accepting railroad passes or telegraph or telephone frank or favor, fixing the penalty at forfeiture of office.

To permit guaranty companies to become sureties on bonds of assignees, trustees, guardians, executors and administrators.

To allow convictions of violators of municipal ordinances to be appealed to the circuit court and if judgment is set aside the prosecution may appeal to the Supreme court.

Providing that death from abortion shall constitute murder in the first degree; also that mutilation of any murdered person to prevent identification shall be punishable by death.

Bills passed in the senate were:

Making it a felony punishable by from three to ten years to corrupt a juror, referee, arbitrator, umpire, commissioner or appraiser of real estate.

House bill authorizing municipal councils to employ city solicitors to codify city ordinances.

Requiring cheese not made of pure cream or milk to be branded "imitation cheese."

OHIO REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

Willard Mercer and wife, of Chester, were agreeably surprised at their home last night. A large number of friends, many from this side of the river, called and spent an enjoyable evening.

An accident occurred at the Dresden pottery yesterday. A cog of the machinery in the clay shops gave way and the shafting fell to the floor, doing some damage. Repairs are being made today.

A practice which gives annoyance to people of the city, and which ought to be stopped, is the ringing of door bells or knocking at doors by boys who are simply passing hand bills or program.

Director Morris, of the Young Men's Christian association, says that the boxing class to be started by the association will be private, and not included in the regular course of exercises.

A derrick has been erected across the river for the unloading of stone for the bridge piers. The wretched condition of the roads has delayed the hauling of stone from the Cunningham quarry.

The hospital association is holding a meeting this afternoon in the Young Men's Christian association rooms, for the purpose of perfecting plans for raising money for the maintenance of a hospital.

Harry Hughes, an aged resident of Ohioville, died at that place yesterday from an attack of kidney trouble. Mr. Hughes is a brother-in-law of Constable Lyons and the father of Harry Hughes, formerly of this place.

W. J. Terrance, Leon Rich and Edward Johnson went to Alliance today, as delegates from the local lodge, to attend a meeting of the national ritual of the Knights of the Maccabees, in session at that place today and tomorrow.

The summer resort at Frankfort Springs has been purchased by Pittsburgh parties, who will transform the property into a sanitarium. This resort was a favorite with many parties from this city.

George Carey has not signed a contract with the Baltimore club yet. As soon as satisfactory terms are offered he will attach his signature. The ball players still continue to practice daily, at Bradshaw's hall, and are getting in good condition for the coming season.

The Young Men's Christian association directors met last night but didn't transact any business, owing to the absence of several of the members of the board. A meeting will be held in the near future for the purpose of settling the plans now on foot to buy the George property.

The association football team, of this city, received a letter yesterday from the West End Athletic club, of Cleveland, asking that they postpone the game scheduled for that city on the 23d of the month. They give, as their reason for canceling, that there are 20 inches of snow on the grounds, and still snowing.

PROFESSIONALS ARE BARRED.

Will Still Control Racing.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13.—All classes heretofore recognized by the League of American Wheelmen have been abolished at the session of the national convention and cycle riders are now in exactly the same category as are all other athletes and sportsmen. In future the league will recognize no grades of amateurs, and any rider who does not live strictly up to the rules governing non-professional sport will be placed in the ranks of the professionals. This result was reached by the repeal of all classes in the league constitution creating classes A and B and defining the status of the men who formerly belonged to them. The penalty for any act of professionalism will therefore, in the future, be practical expulsion from the league. The result gave the most general satisfaction.

The other important steps of the day were the offer and acceptance of a proposition from Consul Isaac B. Potter of New York to submit to arbitration his law suit against the L. A. W., growing out of the publication of The Bulletin and which has long been pending in the New York courts; also the refusal of the league to abandon control of racing.

THE CLAIM TO OIL CITY.

Their Possession.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—Ancient and important documents brought to this city by two Seneca Indians held by them, place a new phase on the old claim of the descendants of the famous chief, Cornplanter, to a considerable portion of the land upon which Oil City stands.

Chief Clerk Gearhart says there is no doubt in his mind that the Indians have been shamefully treated. However, he cannot find any ground for action by the state any more than in any other case of sale. The commonwealth granted the land to the Indians by patent and then its right in the matter ceased entirely. It has no right to interfere further. The Indians sold a large portion of valuable land to a man named Connelly.

They took his notes in payment, and not being versed in technical law, had no mortgage made out for them. They received not 1 cent of cash in payment; nothing but the notes. Soon afterward Connelly failed, and the Indians, of course, never received anything. The matter is one deserving rectification, but it seems outside the jurisdiction of the state.

TRIAL OF LENZ'S MURDERERS.

Sachtleben Says the Proceedings Are a Big Farce.

ALTON, Ill., Feb. 13.—In a letter received here this week by his father, William Sachtleben, the young St. Louis wheelman who left about a year ago to unravel the mystery of the death of Frank G. Lenz, the lost Pittsburgh cyclist, and subsequently to bring his murderers to justice, states that he will leave Armenia just as soon as he can conveniently get away, a few weeks hence.

He says the trial of the murderers, who are still retained, is nominally in progress, but that it is the biggest kind of a farce. There is an evident desire, he states, to fix the guilt for the crime upon the Armenian prisoners, who are innocent.

Methodist Book Concern Meeting.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—The book committee of the eastern and western branch of the Methodist Book concern has met here. A new book concern office is to be built in Chicago at a cost of $125,000 to $150,000. The eastern section reported book sales last year amounting to $591,894. The sales of the western section were $1,001,343.

THE TYPO UNION MEETS

Printers Hold an Interesting
Session.

CLOSING LAST YEAR'S BUSINESS

Request Business Men to Patronize Only
Such Offices as Employ Union Labor—An Interesting Article by "Unionist" Which Deserves More Than Passing Notice.

Typographical Union No. 318 met last evening and closed up last year's business, nearly all the members being present. The most important question was finances, and after a number of suggestions a plan was adopted whereby the union starts the new year with clear books and a surplus in the treasury. Each member holding a situation was assessed a certain amount to liquidate a small indebtedness, and the dues were reduced to 50 cents per month. All grievances existing between members were amicably settled, and the union will work to a man for their interests, as well as those of their employers, whom they thank for kind treatment and honest wages—the best paid in the Ohio valley. They also request that business men and the public in general give their patronage to the union offices, viz: The News Review, Crisis, Unionist, Ed C. Hood, Willis Nichols and the Standard, of Wellsville, where the rights of the craftsmen are recognized, and a fair day's wage paid for an honest day's work. An argument in favor of patronizing union offices is the fact that over $250.00 is paid weekly to our local union typos, while the wages paid in the city to non-union printers—there are only three of 'em—is less than $30. Printers, as a rule, believe in keeping money in circulation, and the former amount is distributed among the various business houses weekly. Why should not business men reciprocate by patronizing union offices to the exclusion of all others? And, right here, the query may suggest itself to business men and the public generally, how best to show their colors and sympathies for this branch of organized and honest labor against the dishonest? The answer to such is short and to the point: Demand the label of Typographical Union 318 upon all your printed matter, which none but the offices mentioned above are entitled to use in East Liverpool and Wellsville, and thereby show to our members and the members of other organizations with which we are affiliated—their numbers are legion—that you are not only a competitor for our patronage, but for that of organized labor generally.

The union was a unit in its denunciation of a non-union Lisbon weekly and its rat editor, who, on being visited last week by some of the printers, who were attending court, had not the courage to face the boys, hanging his head in shame, and thinking, no doubt, of his dirty work while in this city during the printers' strike. A Wellsville paper, and a very weak weekly of this city, employing a few rodents and a large number of poorly paid children, came in for their share of condemnation, and surprise was manifested at a candidate, holding a union card, who has his announcement in the latter delectable sheet. At the next meeting a vice president and delegate to Trades council will be elected.

THE PLAY.

A Small Audience at the Grand Last Night.

The attendance was small at the Grand last night, and all those present were sadly disappointed. The curtain riser, "A Lucky Accident," was painful. The play would not compare with the average country school entertainment. It is intended for a comedy, but lacks everything essential for the same. The second number, "Confusion," like the first, was brimful of everything that distracts. The acting was fair, but both plays were such that a company of stars could not make even a slight impression with them. The dancing of Grant and Atkinson is very good, although they seem unaccustomed to the stage.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by A. H. FARMERS' CLUB MEET

And Discuss the Present Public Road Laws.

A meeting of the Township Line Farmers' club was held Feb. 11 and the following officers elected: President, W. S. Smith; vice president, A. C. McKinzie; secretary, E. E. Abrams; treasurer, G. W. Miller; committee to select questions for discussion, Alex. McDonald, A. H. McCoy, D. J. Smith. The treasurer's report showed $17.29 in the treasury. The question discussed was, "Do We Need Any Change in Our Present Road Laws, and if We do, What Changes Should be Made?" The discussion was opened by A. H. McCoy, who explained many laws on the road question, and the following expressions were brought out by the three gentlemen: That convicts should be made to work on the public road. That public officers' salaries should be reduced and the money thus saved used in the improvement of the roads. A motion was made to appoint a committee to draw up and present resolutions to the legislature in regard to the road question, and the following committee was appointed: A. H. McCoy, D. J. Smith and G. W. Miller. The subject to be discussed at the next meeting is, "Resolved, That the Haskell bill should be sustained," and John L. Crofts and G. W. Miller will open the discussion.

Wanted Snap Judgment.

Notices were served last night on Manager Harry Webber, of the Webber company, to appear at Salineville on next Tuesday to answer to the charges of $140 damages claimed by the manager of the opera house there for canceling dates. Mr. Webber states that this is an attempt at snap judgment, as he only canceled the contract after Manager McGilvray had violated its terms, giving him the usual two weeks notice. He will go to Salineville and answer the charges. The following well known people will join the company here on Saturday: F. R. Imhoff, Miss Hazel Dell, La Petite Marie, R. F. Carroll and Miss Alice Kemp.

Among the Sick.

Miss Cora Hall, of Sixth street, is convalescent after an attack with the grip.

John Mountford, of Second street, is able to be out again after a distressing attack of inflammation.

Mrs. James A. Miller, of Sixth street, is seriously ill.

Editor T. W. Morris, of the News Review, has been confined to his home on Seventh street, with a threatened attack of fever, during the present week.

Was Very Angry.

The uncle of Charles Emmerling, the boy who will be taken to Lisbon on Friday to be sentenced for playing truant, met Truant Officer Beardmore on the street yesterday afternoon, and commenced to call the officer down for his actions. Mr. Beardmore explained the state of affairs to the gentleman, and left him in a very warm state of mind.

Wedding Bells.

Miss Maggie Hertel and Clyde Alvis were united in marriage last night by Reverend Rinehart at the home of the bride, on Fifth street. A number of out-of-town guests were present.

Bert Hiner and Miss Belle Poole were joined in marriage by Squire Morley, at his residence, last night.

Received Sad News.

I. N. Crable, of East Market street, received a telegram today conveying the intelligence that his father, living near Uniontown, Pa., was stricken down with paralysis and was in a very precarious condition. Mr. Crable left by the first train to see his father.

A Good Record.

Since the passage of the compulsory school law in this state there has been 23 children sent from this city to Lancaster. The children sent were all incorrigible, and in many instances sent at the request of parents who could not control them.

Valentine Day.

The day when you want to get even with somebody without being known is close at hand, and comes on Friday of this week. Many handsome as well as hideous valentines are displayed in the city stores.

Supper and Dance.

The Daughters of St. George will give a grand dance and palatable supper at Bradshaw's hall on Tuesday night, February 18, in honor of their seventh anniversary. Tickets 35 cents. Supper from 6 to 8.

O. W. G. Hardman, sheriff of Tyler county, W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Tickets for Rev. Anna Shaw's lecture can be had at Mrs. D. McDonald, No 202 Market street, Curry Bros., Fourth street and Bulger's drug store.

LOOK OUT FOR BREAKERS AHEAD

When pimples, eruptions, boils, and like manifestations of impure blood appear. They wouldn't appear if your blood were pure and your system in the right condition. They show you what you need—a good blood-purifier; that's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

SCROFULOUS ABSCESSES.

Mrs. BELLE SWEENEY, of Flat Top, Mercer Co., Pa., writes: "About four years ago I took scrofula, and did everything that doctors and others prescribed, but only got worse. Several abscesses formed about my neck and breast, discharging a quantity of matter. I got so weak I could scarcely walk about the house. I read all the medical works I could get hold of, and among the rest, read some of your works. You described my case, and recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I procured some and commenced using them and soon began to mend. In six months my sores were all healed up. I am forty-five years old and believe I am as stout as I ever was in my life. I used about one dozen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' with the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and used nothing else after I began using your medicines."

HER BARN STORMING TOUR.

Mary Anderson de Navarro looks back with evident enjoyment upon what she calls the "barnstorming" period of her stage career, which, however, in her case was short, beneficial and pecuniarily profitable. Of her experiences in Owensboro, a small Kentucky town, where she and her little band of actors played for a week, Mrs. de Navarro writes in The Ladies' Home Journal:

"I was a tall, slender Juliet and my Romeo proved to be a plump, pleasant little woman, probably the mother of several would be Romeos and Juliets. The moon she (Romeo) swore by we found to be the headlight of a railway engine hired for the occasion. This was held by a small negro boy perched upon a ladder, who was as amused by the play that he laughed until he shook over the most tragic scenes. His mirth, as may be imagined, was not conducive to the moon's steadiness. At one time she was shining in an upper box, at another on the head of a bald musician, often blinding the unfortunate in the front stalls, here, there, everywhere save on the face of her ('Verona's lovely flower') she had been especially hired to illuminate. The conductor of the orchestra was a carpenter by trade, and sawed away as lustily during the day at the boards he was converting into profile statues of 'Evadne's' noble ancestors as he sawed upon his violin at night."

Queer Beliefs About the Fern.

The fern was supposed to send only on St. John's night and thus to possess those singular properties for which it had become almost sacred. The gathering of the seed was believed to be attended with considerable danger. Povey, in his "Pandeemonium," published in 1684, says: "Much discourse hath been about gathering of fern seed (which is looked upon as a magical herb) on the night of midsummer's eve, and I remember I was told of one who went to gather it, and the spirits whisked by his ears like bullets and sometimes struck his hat and other parts of his body. In fine, though he apprehended he had gotten a quantity of it and secured it in papers and box beside, when he got home he found all empty. But most probable this appointing of time and hours is of the devil's own institution, as well as the fact that having once ensnared people to an obedience to his rules he may with more facility oblige them to stricter vassalage."—Boston Herald.

CURFEW TIDE.

The thrushes sing in every tree:
The shadows long and longer grow;
Broad sunbeams lie athwart the sea:
The oxen low:
Round roof and tower the swallows slide;
And slowly, slowly sinks the sun,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

Sweet sleep, the nighttime's fairest child,
O'er all the world her pinions spreads;
Each flower beneath her influence mild
Fresh fragrance sheds:
The owls, on silent wings and wide,
Steal from the woodlands, one by one,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

No more clanging the rookery rings
With voice of many a noisy bird;
The startled wood dove's clattering wings
No more are heard;
With sound like whispers faintly sighed,
Soft breezes through the treetops run,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

So may it be when life is spent,
When ne'er another sun can rise,
Nor light one other joy present
To dying eyes;
Then softly may the spirit glide
To realms of rest, disturbed by none,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

—S. Cornish Watkins in Chambers' Journal.

THE UNDERTAKER'S SONG.

The Consumptive Man Failed to Appreciate the Old Melody.

On North Clark street there is an undertaker whose face and bearing are peculiarly adapted to his business—tall, thin, with a countenance habitually thoughtful, almost melancholy, and in addition his shoulders stoop, which aids in giving him the air of a man who is burdened with his own or other people's sorrows. But behind the mournful exterior there lies a quiet humor, a little glee, a little wit, but humor nevertheless.

This undertaker boards at a hotel just across the street, and not long since as he walked into the office one evening about dinner time he observed leaning against the end of the desk a cadaverous looking man whom his experienced eyes informed him was rapidly approaching the last stages of consumption. As he passed the desk he remarked in an undertone to the clerk, "I'll get that fellow pretty soon."

Having finished his dinner, he returned to the office, and seating himself in one of the chairs where he could watch the door of his establishment he fell into a dreamy mood. Perhaps it was memories of younger days made him sentimental. At all events he began humming some old ballads. The tune of the old song, "I'm Waiting, My Darling, For Thee," came to his mind. He hummed it over again and again, trying to recall the words. A man seated in front of him seemed to be growing restless.

Suddenly the words came to him, and in a louder tone he sang the first measure, "I'm waiting, my darling, for thee." That was as far as he got. The man in front turned round—it was the consumptive—his bright eyes flashing as in husky but angry tones he said, "I can take a joke as well as any man, but when an undertaker sits behind me and sings 'I'm Waiting, My Darling, For Thee,' it's altogether too much." The undertaker arose slowly, and his face resumed its mournful expression as he walked out of the door and toward his place of business.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Blackie's Student Days.

He wandered in the Harz and the Black forest, clad in wagoner's smock, mixing with the people—especially the miners—geologizing as he went, and making intellectual pilgrimages to Weimar and Wurtzburg. At Göttingen Ottfried Muller and Heeren, the historian, seem to have influenced him most. At Berlin, whichever he next went, he studied under Schleiermacher and Neander, to the latter of whom he was much attracted, and whose teaching appears to have had much to do with broadening views that were of themselves already stretching far beyond their originally restricted confines.

Neander once startled his disciple by remarking, "You have some Jewish notions in Scotland with regard to the observance of the Lord's day." Blackie, who still considered that "Scottish theology and Christianity were convertible terms," was staggered by the assertion that "one of the most significant observances of Scottish religion was not Christian, but Jewish." But the fourth commandment was too deeply imbedded in Blackie for him to be swayed by such reasoning. He continued to spend his Sundays after the Scotch fashion, and says he, "I never had cause to regret my conscientiousness—'Whatsoever is not of faith is sin.'"
—Blackwood's Magazine.

Falling From the Sun to the Earth.

The philosophers have figured out some queer problems since the time of Horatio, but none of them is more curious than that relating to the amount of time it would take for an object to fall from the sun or moon to our earth. It has been decided, after an immense amount of figuring, that if a bowlder weighing a ton should fall from the sun it would take it 99 years, 9 months, 7 days and 2 hours to reach the earth. The same bowlder could make the trip from the moon to the earth in 4½ days.

The Ætolian League.

The Ætolian league was a confederacy of Greek states formed B. C. 223. An annual assembly was held in the autumn at Thermum, and this conference was called the Panætolicon. The league was dissolved on the conquest of the Ætolian states by the Romans, B. C. 189. The original purpose of the league was to free Greece from the rule of the Macedonian kings.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

People want to improve the value of their property by setting out fruit trees and taking care of them. The first cost of a tree is nothing compared with its value when fairly started. J. R. Johnson, of Coshocton, has made a careful study of varieties for this section. He has a very large stock of thrifty, healthy trees and aims to send out trees in good condition so almost every tree will grow. Jay Slaughter, of Adams Mills, set out 1,200 trees from this nursery and all grew but two trees. Mr. Johnson is personally known to several of our citizens as a reliable nursery man, and people who buy from his agents, can depend on getting stock true to name and in all respects as represented. He offers several new kinds worth four times the price asked for them to everyone who has room to plant a tree. J. C. Barton and David Bruce are now representing this nursery.

Printers Hold an Interesting
Session.

CLOSING LAST YEAR'S BUSINESS

Deserves More Than Passing Notice.

Typographical Union No. 318 met last evening and closed up last year's business, nearly all the members being present. The most important question was finances, and after a number of suggestions a plan was adopted whereby the union starts the new year with clear books and a surplus in the treasury. Each member holding a situation was assessed a certain amount to liquidate a small indebtedness, and the dues were reduced to 50 cents per month. All grievances existing between members were amicably settled, and the union will work to a man for their interests, as well as those of their employers, whom they thank for kind treatment and honest wages—the best paid in the Ohio valley. They also request that business men and the public in general give their patronage to the union offices, viz.: The News Review, Crisis, Unionist, Ed C. Hood, Willis Nichols and the Standard, of Wellsville, where the rights of the craftsman are recognized, and a fair day's wage paid for an honest day's work. An argument in favor of patronizing union offices is the fact that over $250.00 is paid weekly to our local union typos, while the wages paid in the city to non-union printers—there are only three of 'em—is less than $30. Printers, as a rule, believe in keeping money in circulation, and the former amount is distributed among the various business houses weekly. Why should not business men reciprocate by patronizing union offices to the exclusion of all others? And, right here, the query may suggest itself to business men and the public generally, how best to show their colors and sympathies for this branch of organized and honest labor against the dishonest? The answer to such is short and to the point: Demand the label of Typographical Union 318 upon all your printed matter, which none but the offices mentioned above are entitled to use in East Liverpool and Wellsville, and thereby show to our members and the members of other organizations with which we are affiliated—their numbers are legion—that you are not only a competitor for our patronage, but for that of organized labor generally.

The union was a unit in its denunciation of a non-union Lisbon weekly and its rat editor, who, on being visited last week by some of the printers, who were attending court, had not the courage to face the boys, hanging his head in shame, and thinking, no doubt, of his dirty work while in this city during the printers' strike. A Wellsville paper, and a very weak weekly of this city, employing a few rodents and a large number of poorly paid children, came in for their share of condemnation, and surprise was manifested at a candidate, holding a union card, who has his announcement in the latter delectable sheet. At the next meeting a vice president and delegate to Trades council will be elected.

THE PLAY.

A Small Audience at the Grand Last Night.

The attendance was small at the Grand last night, and all those present were sadly disappointed. The curtain rised, "A Lucky Accident," was painful. The play would not compare with the average country school entertainment. It is intended for a comedy, but lacks everything essential for the same. The second number, "Confusion," like the first, was brimful of everything that distracts. The acting was fair, but both plays were such that a company of stars could not make even a slight impression with them. The dancing of Grant and Atkinson is very good, although they seem unaccustomed to the stage.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by A. H. FARMERS' CLUB MEET

And Discuss the Present Public Road Laws.

A meeting of the Township Line Farmers' club was held Feb. 11 and the following officers elected: President, W. S. Smith; vice president, A. C. McKinzie; secretary, E. E. Abrams; treasurer, G. W. Miller; committee to select questions for discussion, Alex. McDonald, A. H. McCoy, D. J. Smith. The treasurer's report showed $17.29 in the treasury. The question discussed was, "Do We Need Any Change in Our Present Road Laws, and if We do, What Changes Should be Made?" The discussion was opened by A. H. McCoy, who explained many laws on the road question, and the following expressions were brought out by the three gentlemen: That convicts should be made to work on the public road. That public officers' salaries should be reduced and the money thus saved used in the improvement of the roads. A motion was made to appoint a committee to draw up and present resolutions to the legislature in regard to the road question, and the following committee was appointed: A. H. McCoy, D. J. Smith and G. W. Miller. The subject to be discussed at the next meeting is, "Resolved, That the Haskell bill should be sustained," and John L. Crofts and G. W. Miller will open the discussion.

Wanted Snap Judgment.

Notices were served last night on Manager Harry Webber, of the Webber company, to appear at Salineville on next Tuesday to answer to the charges of $140 damages claimed by the manager of the opera house there for cancelling dates. Mr. Webber states that this is an attempt at snap judgment, as he only cancelled the contract after Manager McGilvray had violated its terms, giving him the usual two weeks notice. He will go to Salineville and answer the charges. The following well known people will join the company here on Saturday: F. R. Imhoff, Miss Hazel Dell, La Petite Marie, R. F. Carroll and Miss Alice Kemp.

Among the Sick.

Miss Cora Hall, of Sixth street, is convalescent after an attack with the grip.

John Mountford, of Second street, is able to be out again after a distressing attack of inflammation.

Mrs. James A. Miller, of Sixth street, is seriously ill.

Was Very Angry.

The uncle of Charles Emmerling, the boy who will be taken to Lisbon on Friday to be sentenced for playing truant, met Truant Officer Beardmore on the street yesterday afternoon, and commenced to call the officer down for his actions. Mr. Beardmore explained the state of affairs to the gentleman, and left him in a very warm state of mind.

Wedding Bells.

Miss Maggie Hertel and Clyde Alvis were united in marriage last night by Reverend Rineart at the home of the bride, on Fifth street. A number of out-of-town guests were present.

Bert Hiner and Miss Belle Poole were joined in marriage by Squire Morley, at his residence, last night.

Received Sad News.

I. N. Crable, of East Market street, received a telegram today conveying the intelligence that his father, living near Uniontown, Pa., was stricken down with paralysis and was in a very precarious condition. Mr. Crable left by the first train to see his father.

A Good Record.

Since the passage of the compulsory school law in this state there has been 25 children sent from this city to Lancaster. The children sent were all incorrigible, and in many instances sent at the request of parents who could not control them.

Valentine Day.

The day when you want to get even with somebody without being known is close at hand, and comes on Friday of this week. Many handsome as well as hideous valentines are displayed in the city stores.

Supper and Dance.

The Daughters of St. George will give a grand dance and palatable supper at Bradshaw's hall on Tuesday night, February 18, in honor of their seventh anniversary. Tickets 35c. Supper from 6 to 8.

O. W. G. Hardman, sheriff of Tyler county, W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Tickets for Rev. Anna Shaw's lecture can be had at Mrs. D. McDonald, No 202 Market street, Curry Bros., Fourth street and Bulger's drug store.

when pimples, eruptions, boils, and like manifestations of impure blood appear. They wouldn't appear if your blood were pure and your system in the right condition. They show you what you need—a good blood-purifier; that's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It carries health with it. All Blood, Skin and Scalp Diseases, from a common blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, are cured by it. It invigorates the liver and rouses every organ into healthful action. In the most stubborn forms of Skin Diseases, such as Salt rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas, Boils and kindred ailments, and with Scrofula in every shape, and all blood-taints, no matter from what cause arising, it is an unequalled remedy.

SCROFULOUS ABSCESSES.

Mrs. BELLE SWEENEY, of Flat Top, Mercer Co., Pa., writes: "About four years ago I took scrofula, and did everything that doctors and others prescribed, but only got worse. Several abscesses formed about my neck and breast, discharging a quantity of matter. I got so weak I could scarcely walk about the house. I read all the medical works I could get hold of, and, among the rest, read some of your works. You described my case, and recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I procured some and commenced using them and soon began to mend. In six months my sores were all healed up. I am forty-five years old and believe I am as stout as I ever was in my life. I used about one dozen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' with the 'Pellets,' and used nothing else after I began using your medicines."

HER BARN STORMING TOUR.

Mary Anderson de Navarro looks back with evident enjoyment upon what she calls the "barnstorming" period of her stage career, which, however, in her case was short, beneficial and pecuniarily profitable. Of her experiences in Owensboro, a small Kentucky town, where she and her little band of actors played for a week, Mrs. de Navarro writes in The Ladies' Home Journal:

"I was a tall, slender Juliet and my Romeo proved to be a plump, pleasant little woman, probably the mother of several would be Romeos and Juliets. The moon she (Romeo) swore by we found to be the highlight of a railway engine hired for the occasion. This was held by a small negro boy perched upon a ladder, who was so amused by the play that he laughed until he shook over the most tragic scenes. His mirth, as may be imagined, was not conducive to the moon's steadiness. At one time she was shining in an upper box, at another on the head of a bald musician, often blinding the unfortunates in the front stalls, here, there, everywhere save on the face of her ('Verona's lovely flower') she had been especially hired to illuminate. The conductor of the orchestra was a carpenter by trade, and sawed away as lustily during the day at the boards he was converting into profile statues of 'Evadne's' noble ancestors as he sawed upon his violin at night."

Queer Beliefs About the Fern.

The fern was supposed to seed only on St. John's night and thus to possess those singular properties for which it had become almost sacred. The gathering of the seed was believed to be attended with considerable danger. Povey, in his "Pandemonium," published in 1684, says: "Much discourse hath been about gathering of fern seed (which is looked upon as a magical herb) on the night of midsummer's eve, and I remember I was told of one who went to gather it, and the spirits whisked by his ears like bullets and sometimes struck his hat and other parts of his body. In fine, though he apprehended he had gotten a quantity of it and secured it in papers and box beside, when he got home he found all empty. But most probable this appointing of time and hours is of the devil's own institution, as well as the fact that having once ensnared people to an obedience to his rules he may with more facility oblige them to stricter vassalage."—Boston Herald.

CURFEW TIDE.

The thrushes sing in every tree;
The shadows long and longer grow;
Broad sunbeams lie athwart the sea;
The open low,
Round roof and tower the swallows slide;
And slowly, slowly sinks the sun,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

Sweet sleep, the nighttime's fairest child,
O'er all the world her pinions spreads;
Each flower beneath her influence mild
Fresh fragrance sheds;
The owls, on silent wings and wide,
Steal from the woodlands, one by one,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

No more clanging the rookery rings
With voice of many a noisy bird;
The startled wood dove's clattering wings
No more are heard;
With sound like whistles faintly sighed,
Soft breezes through the treetops run,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

So may it be when life is spent,
When ne'er another sun can rise,
Nor light one other joy present
To dying eyes;
Then softly may the spirit glide
To realms of rest, disturbed by none,
At curfew tide,
When day is done.

—S. Cornish Watkins in Chambers' Journal.

THE UNDERTAKER'S SONG.

The Consumptive Man Failed to Appreciate the Old Melody.

On North Clark street there is an undertaker whose face and bearing are peculiarly adapted to his business—tall, thin, with a countenance habitually thoughtful, almost melancholy, and in addition his shoulders stoop, which aids in giving him the air of a man who is burdened with his own or other people's sorrows. But behind the mournful exterior there lies a quiet humor, a little gawdiness perhaps, but humor nevertheless.

This undertaker boards at a hotel just across the street, and not long since as he walked into the office one evening about dinner time he observed leaning against the end of the desk a cadaverous looking man whom his experienced eyes informed him was rapidly approaching the last stages of consumption. As he passed the desk he remarked in an undertone to the clerk, "I'll get that fellow pretty soon."

Having finished his dinner, he returned to the office, and seating himself in one of the chairs where he could watch the door of his establishment he fell in to a dreamy mood. Perhaps it was memories of younger days made him sentimental. At all events he began humming some old ballads. The tune of the old song, "I'm Waiting, My Darling, For Thee," came to his mind. He hummed it over again and again, trying to recall the words. A man seated in front of him seemed to be growing restless.

Suddenly the words came to him, and in a louder tone he sang the first measure, "I'm waiting, my darling, for thee." That was as far as he got. The man in front turned round—it was the consumptive—his bright eyes flashing as in husky but angry tones he said, "I can take a joke as well as any man, but when an undertaker sits behind me and sings 'I'm Waiting, My Darling, For Thee,' it's altogether too much." The undertaker arose slowly, and his face resumed its mournful expression as he walked out of the door and toward his place of business.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Blackie's Student Days.

He wandered in the Harz and the Black forest, clad in wagner's smock, mixing with the people—especially the miners—geologizing as he went, and making intellectual pilgrimages to Weimar and Wurtzburg. At Göttingen Ottfried Muller and Heeren, the historian, seem to have influenced him most. At Berlin, whither he next went, he studied under Schleiermacher and Neander, to the latter of whom he was much attracted, and whose teaching appears to have had much to do with broadening views that were of themselves already stretching far beyond their originally restricted confines.

Neander once startled his disciple by remarking, "You have some Jewish notions in Scotland with regard to the observance of the Lord's day." Blackie, who still considered that "Scottish theology and Christianity were convertible terms," was staggered by the assertion "that one of the most significant observances of Scottish religiousness was not Christian, but Jewish." But the fourth commandment was too deeply imbedded in Blackie for him to be swayed by such reasoning. He continued to spend his Sundays after the Scotch fashion, and, says he, "I never had cause to regret my conscientiousness.—Whatsoever is not of faith is sin."—Blackwood's Magazine.

Falling From the Sun to the Earth.

The philosophers have figured out some queer problems since the time of Horatio, but none of them is more curious than that relating to the amount of time it would take for an object to fall from the sun or moon to our earth. It has been decided, after an immense amount of figuring, that if a boulder weighing a ton should fall from the sun it would take it 99 years, 9 months, 7 days and 2 hours to reach the earth. The same boulder could make the trip from the moon to the earth in 4½ days.—St. Louis Republic.

The Ætolian League.

The Ætolian league was a confederacy of Greek states formed B. C. 223. An annual assembly was held in the autumn at Thermum, and this conference was called the Panætolian. The league was dissolved on the conquest of the Ætolian states by the Romans, B. C. 189. The original purpose of the league was to free Greece from the rule of the Macedonian kings.

Our soldiers, considering the fact that their clothing, rations and quarters are furnished, are better paid than the laboring men of most European countries.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphoric Beef, Iron and Wine, the only true tonic to the stomach system, system, and nerve, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

People want to improve the value of their property by setting out fruit trees and taking care of them. The first cost of a tree is nothing compared with its value when fairly started. J. R. Johnson, of Coshocton, has made a careful study of varieties for this section. He has a very large stock of thrifty, healthy trees and aims to send out trees in good condition so almost every tree will grow. Jay Slaughter, of Adams Mills, set out 1,200 trees from this nursery and all grew but two trees. Mr. Johnson is personally known to several of our citizens as a reliable nursery man, and people who buy from his agents, can depend on getting stock true to name and in all respects as represented. He offers several new kinds worth four times the price asked for them to everyone who has room to plant a tree. J. C. Barton and David Bruce are now representing this nursery.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

J. B. McLaughlin Expelled
From the McKinley Club

BY UNANIMOUS VOTE OF MEMBERS

For Unbecoming, Ungentlemanly and Unparliamentary Language, the said Offense Being Committed in the Rooms of the McKinley Club, at East Liverpool, Ohio, on the Night of March 12, 1896.

J. B. McLaughlin, of Turtle Creek, Pa., and we believe at one time a resident of the McKinley club of this city, was in our midst last night, and occupied a prominent place among the ministers of the gospel, upon the platform of the rink, an attentive and apparently deeply interested hearer of the truths which Evangelist Schiverea was enunciating.

At the close of the evangelist's address, a popular and prominent attorney of this city came to the platform and requested Mr. McLaughlin to make his presence known, at the rooms of the McKinley club, as the members assembled there desired to consult with him respecting certain matters and details supposed to be in his possession.

Mr. McLaughlin good naturedly and smilingly responded, and just so soon as he could make his way through the dense mass of people blocking the entrance to the rink, took his departure therefrom and wended his way to the McKinley club, where he was accorded pleasant greeting by a full house. After the gentleman had removed his wrappings and overshoes, the president of the meeting, in gentle tones, stated the object of the meeting to the visitor from Turtle Creek and intimated that a response, pro or con, would be fully appreciated by the numerous members of the club present.

Then the visitor from the classic shades of Turtle Creek arose and addressed the assembly, and he addressed it in such a manner as to cause even his friends in the club to warm in hot wrath against him. He was bitter, denunciatory, insolent and insulting to one and all present, using expressions which, had he addressed them to any one individual, would have brought hot punishment in its wake. Finally he went to extremes, and "bearance ceased to be a virtue," and one old veteran present, who had faced shot and shell when J. B. McLaughlin had faced nothing more dangerous than clam shells, arose and called him down for his use of language entirely unbecoming a gentleman and a member of the club; language which tended to trouble and serious disturbance. McLaughlin refused to take his seat, acting in a defiant and bullying manner, when a second member of the club rose to a point of order. The president asked for the stating of the point, decided it well taken and imperatively ordered McLaughlin to take his seat, and when the latter insolently demurred, the order was insisted upon in a manner which convinced Mr. McLaughlin that he had counted without his host; that he was not bullying a witness in court, where said witness had no chance to defend himself from a pettifogger's attack, but with men who would not be trifled with, and he took his seat, as gentle as Mary's famous little lamb, and a moment afterward retired from the room, having earned the hearty contempt of every man present.

Action was at once taken looking to McLaughlin's expulsion from the club, on account of the insolent and unwarranted language he had used to its members, with the following result, the vote being unanimous, even his former friends talking against and voting against him:

"Resolved, That J. B. McLaughlin be expelled for conduct unbecoming a member of this club, in the use of unparliamentary and ungentlemanly language in the presence of the members of this club at its meeting held in its rooms on the evening of March 12, 1896."

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES.
Cold Weather Slightly Increased Business Yesterday.

Business slightly increased yesterday at the township trustees, on account of cold weather, and as a consequence the trustees are in favor of warmer weather, as it is expected that their burdens will be somewhat lightened. The trustees are still laughing over a communication that was sent them some time ago. The request, after asking for several articles, finished in this manner: "I will live in despair and die in hope. Please don't forget the butter."

The infirm directors have about made up their minds to not send Tommy Humphrey to England, as they had intended doing this month, as they think he is such a nuisance that he will in some way or the other find his way back from there in a short time, and think it is better to see that he stays at the infirmary this time.

CALCUTTA HEARD FROM.

Our Suburban Towns Will Not Be Left Out.

The following communication comes from one well known in this section. The late board of education can read the name affixed, and members of that board will probably read all the signatures they desire, in which they are openly condemned for their action respecting the Bible, before the battle of ballots is over:

"One of the teachers in the city schools is reported as turning from one decision to another on the ground of mere personal consideration—that in case there is a change in the board she will be reinstated as teacher. So, from these selfish motives, she has come back to her first decision."

"Well, that is one way of looking at this matter. There is another way. Her first decision was correct; her second was an error; her third, a return to the right, and gives peculiar force to her position, because of the second sober thought. With both sides in the scales, viewing it carefully, reconsidered her first decision and takes her stand upon the eternal word of truth."

"Her testimony to the value of the Bible is not weakened, but strengthened, by the fact that she has carefully weighed both sides, with both in full view, and settled upon the rock beside her Lord and Master, who was the greatest teacher the world ever knew."

"The wisest king of old, except Jesus Christ, began his reign in the spirit of his God-fearing father. After awhile he strayed from the right, and being very rich he denied himself nothing that his soul desired. He made him great works, builded houses, planted vineyards, gardens and orchards of all kinds of fruit trees; also pools of water to nourish the trees; he had servants and great possessions above all that were before him. He gathered also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces; also secured men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, such as musical instruments, and that of all sorts. So he was great above all that were before him in Jerusalem; also, his wisdom remained with him. He went into these things to find out what was good for the sons of men to do all the days of their life. With all these means of wealth and pleasure on one end of the scales, and his father's instruction in the other, he gives his verdict: 'Vanity of vanities, all is vanity,' and the conclusion of the whole matter is, 'Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man.'"

"With all the data before her, and weighing carefully everything bearing on the case, Miss Jessop has declared for the right and all shall follow after it that are right hearted men. All honor to Miss Little and Jessop, as also the honorable member of the board, Mrs. Whitehead."

Yours for the right,
J. McKELVEY,
Calcutta, O.

SEVERAL FUNERALS.

Jacob Vandine and George Shaffer's Child Buried Today.

The three days old child of George Shaffer, that died yesterday, was buried this morning at 10 o'clock at Spring Grove cemetery.

The funeral of Jacob Vandine took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First M. E. church, Reverends Hodgson and Whitehead officiating. Interment was made at Spring Grove cemetery.

The funeral of Addison Ainsley, who died at his home near Calcutta yesterday, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the United Presbyterian church, Calcutta, Reverend McKelvey officiating. Interment will be made at the United Presbyterian cemetery that place.

A FILTHY CONDITION
Is the House of a Woman Dependent on the Trustees.

The township trustees have a case on hand that is very distasteful for them to attend to, they saw. A woman with a sick child, that requires medical attention, is the person referred to. She lives in the lower part of the city, and the trustees say that she keeps the house that she lives in in a most loathsome condition, through downright laziness. This woman will not make any attempt at cleanliness, and the stench that is prevalent in the home where the sick child lies, is enough to make a person "regret" their dinner. The trustees think that here would be a good field for missionary work.

A CHAT WITH M'GREGOR

A Representative of This Paper Interviews Him.

STILL PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE

The Slayer of Lizzie Ewing in Good Health and is Becoming More Reconciled to His Prison Confinement—Will Commence Action for a Pardon.

A NEWS REVIEW correspondent a few days since called on Jesse McGregor, who is serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary at Columbus for the murder of Lizzie Ewing.

McGregor was in excellent humor and without any hesitation whatever consented to be interviewed, and treated the representative of this paper with the utmost courtesy. He was quite communicative, and willingly answered the numerous inquiries put to him.

The convicted murderer is regarded as a model prisoner by the keepers, and as a consequence is permitted to enjoy many privileges that otherwise would be denied him. Instead of being confined to a cell at night, he is provided with a snug little apartment on the second floor, from which he may arise or retire at pleasure. Prison life apparently agrees with him, for he is the picture of good health. He is becoming more reconciled to confinement within the prison walls now. At first he said it was very monotonous.

He still protests his innocence, and claims that he was unjustly convicted of a crime that he did not commit. When asked if proceedings for a pardon would be commenced, he replied in the affirmative, but said it would be some time to come before action for judicial clemency would be commenced. Referring to the attitude of the press, he said that he did not harbor any ill feeling for them, although he thought that they showed him up in an unfavorable light.

In the capacity of clerk in the medical department, McGregor has become quite proficient and is considered a valuable assistant in this line of work.

He inquired anxiously about his former friends and sends his respects to them through the medium of the press. After these few remarks the interview terminated and the NEWS REVIEW informant departed once more to the busy outside world.

LIKE BANQUO'S GHOST.

The Purchasing of Land for Bradshaw Avenue Again Agitated.

Now that Councilman Kent has arrived home and rolled up his sleeves preparatory to getting down to councilmanic work at once, the question of purchasing the strip of land on the property owned by George Morton is again being agitated. The members of the street committee will hold a conference with Mr. Morton and endeavor to prevail upon him to part with his land at a more reasonable rate than he originally asked. The committee claim that the price asked from the city is exorbitant, and although the acquisition of this property would straighten out and improve Bradshaw avenue, the high price placed upon it by the owner is responsible for the hesitancy on the part of the city to make a deal. This question has bobbed up periodically for the past five years, but no definite action has ever been taken. Mr. Kent will call a meeting of the street committee for Tuesday night, and the result of the conference with Mr. Morton will be made known. A discussion on the proposed vehicle ordinance will also take place.

EIGHTH ASSIGNMENT.

The February Term of Court Expires Week After Next.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, March 13.—O. W. Hummer, the Lisbon shoe man, who has figured so conspicuously in court during the past few months, filed a suit this morning against the wholesale shoe firm of Stewart Bros. & Co., of Cleveland and G. J. Jones, of Girard, to recover $600 damages. At the time of making his assignment he was indebted to the Cleveland firm in the sum of $2,500, and when the probate court set off to him $500 worth of his stock, he accepted a proposition made by the defendants by which he was to turnover to them this part of the stock, and accept from them in return a permanent position as salesman at a salary of $12 per week. He acted in this capacity for them for four weeks, and last Monday the defendants sent a man here to take charge of the business, and refused to give Hummer further employment.

W. G. Wells, as trustee of George and Charles Todd by the will of the late George S. Metzgar, of Fairfield township, sued Mrs. Anna Fraser this morning to foreclose a mortgage of $250 on her home in this place of two promissory notes which were given six years ago.

R. N. Chamberlin, of East Palestine, has entered suit as an heir of the late J. T. Chamberlin, asking for the partition of a part of lot number 87 in the Chamberlain northern addition of East Palestine.

The eighth and last assignment of cases for the February term begins Tuesday, March 31: George J. Koch versus the Mutual Life Insurance Company; William Linn versus Reason Phillips; Herring, Hall, Marvin Company versus George W. Meredith.

Wednesday—Edna Smith versus The P. M. & C. Railroad Company; Edward Snyder versus Henry Snyder; John E. Stoddard versus John S. Dixon; Samuel G. Caskey and others versus Mabel Frederick and others.

Thursday—L. C. Kirkbride versus Isaac Owen; L. C. Kirkbride versus Carrie L. Kirkbride; Duncan M. Dorsey versus Mrs. J. Dorsey. Friday—Edward Leef and others versus J. W. Seacrest and others.

Court will adjourn tonight or tomorrow morning until the week following next, when Judge Taylor will occupy the bench.

SEANOR RELEASED.

His Father Appeared and Paid the Fine.

Frank Seanor was released from confinement in the city jail last night. His father was present when the mayor imposed a fine of $15 for the theft of the watch, and gave security. Young Seanor said he was driven to commit the crime through dire extremity. His wife and child were ill, and before he could secure the services of a physician, he was forced to advance some security for remuneration, and not having any money he says, he was driven to steal the watch, and accordingly the mayor dealt leniently with him.

C. W. Hummer was arrested this morning for obtaining goods under false pretense, at the instance of Stewart Bros. & Co. Hummer obtained goods from the firm amounting to $1,100, after representing to them that he owned property unencumbered, and owed nothing, on promissory notes. He gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear in court.

TAKE UP THE IDEA.

A Suggestion Made by a Prominent Wheelman.

A suggestion was made by a prominent wheelman this morning to have the bicyclists of this city and of the county take up the idea of good roads. He said: "I noticed by the NEWS REVIEW of some days ago that the Township Line Farmers club proposed to frame a bill to be sent to the legislature of this state, asking for the improvement of the roads in this county. Now I would say there are several hundred wheelmen in this county, at least, and I think it would be a wise plan for them to act in conjunction with the Farmer's club, if that body is willing for such an advancement. Let the wheelmen here first take up the idea and then draw other wheelmen into it. It is being done in other counties and why shouldn't it be done here."

A WOMAN PILOT.

Mrs. Mary Green Standing a Regular Watch at the Wheel.

Mrs. Mary B. Green, wife of Captain Gordon Green, commander of the Bedford, and the only licensed woman pilot on the river, is now standing a regular watch at the wheel of that boat. In fact, Mrs. Green carries the first license ever issued to a woman from the Pittsburg office of steamboat inspectors, and to her credit it can be said that she handles the wheel as good as any of the sterner sex. Mrs. Green has been standing a regular watch for several days, Robert Linton, the former pilot, having left the boat. Mrs. Green found no trouble in assuming the duties of pilot, and as her license only extends to Marietta, and the boat has entered into a new trade, she will begin to learn the Kanawha river at once.

Quarantine Removed.

The quarantine was removed from the Johnson family, Basil avenue, this afternoon by Sanitary Police King. There are now no cases of diphtheria in the city.

Given Judgment.

J. N. Rose, as agent, was given judgment in an ejectment case against Joseph Smith, in Squire Manley's court, this morning.

Did Not Meet.

The Rovers football club failed to meet last night, as enough members were not present to constitute a quorum.

MARCHING TO VICTORY

The Cause Is Right and Must Prevail.

GOD AND HIS BIBLE SHALL RULE

All Other Attractions Fail to Keep the Masses Away From the Rink—The Men and Women of Liverpool Warmly Welcome the Incoming of the Holy Spirit.

The beauty of song service was fully illustrated last night. All people are better in consequence of music, especially that class of music which inclines to the service of the living God. The choir is doing grand work for the Master, and the various churches of the city should see to it that every seat upon the platform is occupied, and that such a volume of song shall nightly go up as shall be instrumental in bringing men and women to a full realization of the love which Jesus has for fallen humanity.

Rev. J. C. Taggart read the scripture lesson. Prayer and a selection by the quartet followed, and then the audience joined with the choir in rendering "bring them in—bring the wandering ones to Jesus." It was truly an inspiring, cheering sight, to witness the immense audience as the people rose to their feet and gave praises to the giver of all good gifts. It was demonstrated thoroughly last night that the women of the assembly do by far the best singing, as the men, when called upon by the evangelist, seemed to be very bashful, while the women responded in a manner which made the heart glad.

Announcements were made for the pottery meetings for the time being, and of the men's meeting at the rink on Sunday afternoon, followed by the grand meeting on Sunday night, from the subject which is sure to win the attention of the pottery workers, "Work and Wages."

Reverend Huffer, of the Christian church, led in a short prayer that God will, for the sake of Jesus, bless the congregation, the evangelist, and save East Liverpool from the meshes of sin.

Petitions came from all over the house for friends, relatives and acquaintances. The evangelist asked for God to bless the rumssellers of East Liverpool, and for the members of club rooms all over the city, asserting that there were enough club rooms in East Liverpool to damn the city. One petition that the ministers of East Liverpool may receive the baptism of the holy ghost. A number afterwards stood up, and said by this act that they were burdened with sin and desired Jesus to remove from them the grievous burdens which had become too heavy for human shoulders. Rev. Lee was then requested, by the evangelist, to carry these burdens to him who hath loved us and given himself for us, and responded in most earnest prayer.

"The 19th chapter of Luke 'For the son of man is come to seek and to save that which is lost.' Blessed text. Jesus came to seek and to save. We talk about God, but we find it difficult to comprehend his majesty and his divine power. But we can understand Jesus, the son of God, who came down from heaven and assumed human form; took upon himself humanity; who suffered and sorrowed as other men do. Grew up among the men and women of this lower earth; who came not as a spirit, but with our common humanity bearing him down. God in Christ, but clothed in our humanity. He was a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief. He came as our Savior, loving us and sorry for us; he came on a message of infinite mercy and love. Listen to the poor blind beggar: 'Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me!' Jesus heard the bitter cry of one in need; he always hears such cries; one glance at the sightless eyes, and his great, loving heart, full of mercy and compassion, went out to the poor beggar, and he asked the blind man what his desire was. Quick came the response: 'That I shall receive my sight.' Oh, how quickly the blessed Jesus granted his request; how quickly he answers the honest cry of any poor sinner. There are so many persons who are blind in East Liverpool—blind to the best interests of soul and body; spiritually blind. Oh, that Jesus may seek and find and awaken you from your deathly lethargy."

"There are many poor creatures whisky blind. Is this not true? If the drinker but could receive his eyesight and see what is in the glass he holds up before him, how he would shudder and turn away in loathing and awful horror, and hurl glass and contents far from him, never again to be clasped in his hands or lifted to his lips; could see ruined

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, MARCH 13.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

WOMAN VOTERS.

Remember, true women of East Liverpool, ye who are Republicans, that the right of franchise belongs to you on the school question, and that you have the right to cast your ballots
for the school board on Saturday, March 21. Ye who love the Bible, and believe in the teachers reading it to the pupils in our public schools, should make it your duty to God and country to turn out and vote. Do not hesitate.

LAW AND ORDER.

Readers of the NEWS REVIEW, are you aware of the fact that there are certain features occurring nightly which speak volumes in favor of the working classes of East Liverpool.
The matter has been noted closely by men who pay close attention to such matters. We refer to the good order which prevails in the immense audiences which nightly assemble in the Fifth street rink, in attendance at the evangelistic meetings. The very large proportion of the hearers present are engaged in our potteries, and the men and women so engaged and so present, have won and richly deserve the very heartiest commendation.

MCKINLEY.

McKinley stock is commanding a premium. He is not only the pride of Ohio, but all over the United States,
north and south, his friends are legion.
He is the friend of the masses. He is the friend of the business man, the merchant and the manufacturer. He is the friend of this great nation, one and indivisible. His gospel of protection furnishes employment to the laborer and the mechanic, at remunerative wages, and these wages are kept in constant circulation, carrying prosperity to business man and merchant.
His gospel protects the home manufacturer, enabling him to sell his products broadcast, and keep the wheels of industry whirling the year around.
In a word, McKinley embodies, in his principles, just what the great majority of the voters in this nation demand.

FOR THE BIBLE.

Here you have them, just as they have placed themselves before the people: E. A. Stevenson, O. C. Votrey, B. H. Hodgson, Dr. W. T. Norris, Mrs. J. C. Allison and E. J. Owen are in favor of reading the Bible in the public schools of East Liverpool, by the teachers to the pupils. Bible readers and Bible lovers, make careful note of the above. These are those who have placed themselves right on the Bible issue, as candidates on the Republican ticket, subject to the ballot on March 21, 1896. The following have not placed themselves right as to reading, by the teachers to the pupils, but want the blessed book used merely as a reference book: W. L.
Smith, D. J. Nellis, John N.
Taylor and Harry W. Smith. Mrs.
M. E. Calhoun has said, to the NEWS REVIEW reporter, that she does not desire to be quoted. To a witness of unimpeachable integrity, who will testify to the conversation and subject matter, in case of necessity, Mrs. Calhoun has proclaimed herself against the reading of the book, by the teachers to the pupils, and said that she is in sympathy with the old board.
Lovers and advocates of the reading of the inspired book of God, ye who are Republicans in politics, here are the people or candidates for whom you are asked to vote. Use your ballot as you will wish you had done when you come to the great day of judgment.

SPRING SUITS.

ADVANCE STYLES IN MEN'S SUITS.

We want you to see the new styles. We want to show you the right clothes at the right prices.

No difference where you have been trading, come in and look at our tailor made garments. It can't do any harm, and you ought to see the clothing that so many people have been talking about.

We carry no sweat-shop-made clothing to make a hurrah sale of—$25 suits at $12.50, $20 suits at $10, etc., or new spring goods just received. The merchant might have been to East Broadway, or to some shirt makers, but from a legitimate manufacturer or a merchant of repute, no such prices can be had.

HUMBUGGING THE PEOPLE---FAKE SALES

Are all right to advertise, but a legitimate dealer won't do it. A great many customers like our store because it is headquarters for certain makes of Men's and Boys' Clothing, celebrated for style and quality all over the land. These are the same goods kept by leading stores in the large cities, and nowhere are they sold lower than here. Whatever the price you want to pay, you will find here honest value, style, fit and satisfaction for your money. We do the very best we can by every customer who comes into the store, and are always glad to show our goods and compare our prices.

Entirely new styles; all-wool goods. $1.23, $1.98, $2.48, $2.98.

NO MONEY FOR COIT.

Bill to Give Him $30,000 Beaten
In the House.

NUMBER OF MEASURES PASSED.

One Provides For the Protection of Working People From Dust-Producing Machinery in Factories--Other Bills Receive Consideration.

COLUMBUS, March 13.—The bill to pay Colonel Coit $30,000, as expenses in his trial growing out of the Washington C.
H. riot, has been defeated in the senate.
Bills were introduced in the senate as follows:

Giving the state board of arbitration authority to intervene in disputes where employers and employees reside in two or more counties and giving the board authority to subpoena witnesses.

Providing that the penalties for obtaining food and lodging by false pretenses shall not apply to cases where there had been an agreement for delay
in payment not to exceed ten days.

Providing that persons convicted of offenses, for which the penalty is not more than one year, shall be sentenced to the workhouse, if there be one in the county.

Bills passed in the senate were:
Providing for the taxation of freight line and equipment companies.
To create a better sanitary condition in workshops and factories where dust-creating machinery is used.

Bills passed in the house were as follows:

Prohibiting the killing of wild song birds.
Senate bills authorizing safe deposit and investment companies to act as bondsmen for officials, trustees, administrators, executors, etc., in Franklin and Mahoning counties.

Providing for a professional certificate, good for eight years, to teachers who have taught five consecutive years
and pass a satisfactory examination.

Providing that railroads may use an electrical device showing whether trains are on time or not.

Senate bill amending the act providing for county depositories so as to advertise in two county papers that the commissioners would receive bids for the use of the county money.

CLEVELAND, March 13.—The large wholesale boot and shoe house of Childs, Groff & Co., at 82 and 84 Bank street, has been forced to the wall by the embezzlement of a large sum of money by William H. Huntington, the junior member and financial man of the firm. The failure was precipitated when chattel mortgages, covering the entire stock and book accounts, were executed by the firm and individual mortgages were given by the senior member of the firm on all his property.
The firm's mortgages aggregate $92-977.16, covering everything it possessed.

THE TONSILINE COMPANY,
CANTON, O.

ONE KENTUCKY SENATOR.

This Likely For a Time From the Outlook at Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 13.—The one thing that seems to be settled by the doings of the joint assembly is that Kentucky will have but one representative in the United States senate from March 4, 1897, when Senator Black-burn's term expires, until at least January, 1898, when the next legislature can meet and fill the vacancy. There was no lack of apprehension of renewed danger of an outbreak. Mayor Julian, with a force of police, cleared the rotunda of mere curiosity hunters, but in the cloak rooms and elsewhere were enough men to have done much harm if the occasion had arisen. Perhaps the apprehension of difficulty tended to produce unusual self-restraint, and so the scene ended without other turmoil than that of debate.

The newly installed Republican in the house did not qualify before the joint assembly met and so was not a factor. The Republicans adopted the tactics of breaking the quorum and this brought from Lieutenant Governor Worthington the ruling that 70 members constitute a quorum necessary to elect a senator. So long as this ruling stands no election can be had, except by breaking over party lines.

GRABBING UP HOTEL ROOMS.

The McKinley People Preparing For a Rush at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—Within the past four days friends and supporters of Major McKinley of Ohio have secured accommodations for 1,500 people here during the Republican national convention. The Pennsylvania delegation gave up its contract with the Lindell hotel to care for 300 people and the space was eagerly gobbled up by the Ohioans.
Then Iowa gave up accommodations for 800 people and the McKinleyites also secured them.

The Marylanders were the third to throw up the sponge, and before the ink on the telegram was cold the Buckeyes had the accommodations. Aside from this the McKinley forces have made contracts with the Southern for all the space that hotel would give them, and the same thing has been done by them at the Lindell, St. James, Laclede, Planters and at every hostelry where any accommodations whatever could be secured.

Georgia Will Vote For McKinley.

ATLANTA, March 13.—The McKinley forces have practically captured the Georgia vote in the national Republican convention. Eight out of the 11 congressional districts have acted so far and of the 16 delegates chosen, 13 are pledged to McKinley, the other three being for Reed.

South Dakota Against McKinley.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 13.—After the hardest campaign ever fought in this city or state, Senator Pettigrew has beaten the combination which had been formed to prevent his going as a delegate to St. Louis. South Dakota will likely be against McKinley.

Tennessee For McKinley.

NASHVILLE, March 13.—Prominent Republican politicians and organizers have been in attendance here upon the meeting of the Republican state executive committee. The consensus of opinion is that the state is for McKinley.

A Free Silver Democratic Party.

LANSING, Mich., March 13.—A new political party, known as "The Free Silver Democratic Party of Michigan," has been organized here at a conference of some 35 free silver Democrats representing various sections of the state.

McKinley Their Choice.

MARINETTE, Wis., March 13.—At the Ninth district Republican convention resolutions were adopted declaring for William McKinley. Washburn and Grant county conventions also declared for McKinley.

Wisconsin District For McKinley.

LA CROSSE, Wis., March 13.—The Republicans of the Seventh congressional district have adopted a resolution favoring the nomination for president by the St. Louis convention of William Mc-Kinley.

New Republican Committeeman.

CHICAGO, March 13.—Ex-Governor Pifer has been unanimously elected national committeeman from Illinois by the Republican state central committee in place of W. J. Campbell, deceased.

Endorsed a McKinley Man.

SANTA FE, N. M., March 13.—The Republican county convention has endorsed Judge A. L. Morrison, an avowed Mc-Kinley man, as the national delegate.

Missionaries Likely to Be Expelled.

MOSCOW, March 13.—It is likely true that the porte has decided upon the expulsion of the British and American missionaries in Asia Minor. Such a measure would suit Russia.

CLEVELAND PRAISED.

Sherman Eulogizes the President For His Patriotism.

AGAIN ADVOCATES CUBA'S CAUSE.

Predicts the Overthrow of the Monarchy in Spain—Hill Wants Recognition of Cuba For Liberty's Sake, Not For Business Reasons.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Senators Sherman and Hill were the conspicuous figures the fourth day of the Cuban debate in the senate, the New York senator forcibly urging the mercenary character of the pending resolutions, while Mr. Sherman upheld them with another graphic arraignment of Spain and General Weyler.

There was no evidence of a near approach to a final vote, although Mr. Sherman announced that he would press for one at the earliest moment. The galleries continue to be crowded and show no diminution of public interest.

Mr. Hill's opposition to the resolutions was confined to that feature which expressed the purpose of the United States to protect the legitimate interests of the United States. This, the senator declared, was an ignominious and contemptible attitude. It was patting the cause of human liberty and patriotism on a very low plane and he urged that the resolutions be defeated in order that they might be amended and the mercenary features eliminated.

Mr. Sherman's speech was mainly a reiteration of the views he presented when the senate resolutions were adopted. He declared that war in Cuba was a flagrant and the evidences of it abundant. He insisted on his characterization on General Weyler as the "butcher," but conceded that the Spanish minister, Senor Dupuy de Lome had the full right and the duty of countering and explaining the statement, either in or out of the state department.

In the course of his speech Mr. Sherman paid a glowing tribute to the patriotism and fidelity of President Cleveland and his readiness to uphold the country's flag.

Proceeding with the main question Mr. Sherman said a joint resolution would have compelled action by the president within ten days. This was not desirable, for the moral effect of the resolution was the thing most desired.

Here Mr. Sherman turned aside for a tribute to President Cleveland. The senator said there was a difference of opinion between him and Mr. Cleveland. "But," he added, "no one doubts his courage; no one doubts his fidelity to the flag of our country; no one doubts that."

The senator referred to his characterization of General Weyler as "the butcher." Weyler did not deny or object to it. His explanation, sent from Havana, was that he had obeyed orders, being only a subordinate officer, and that the cruelties were necessary to subdue the uprising of 10 years ago.

Taking up the conditions of war existing, Mr. Sherman said they were flagrant. With much force the senator said: "If war does not exist in Cuba, where outside of hell does it exist?" He said in reply to senators who called for "facts," that Mr. Lodge, one of the members of the committee on foreign relations, had secured ample facts from Secretary Olney, but these could not, for obvious reasons, be made public.

Mr. Sherman declared it was impossible that the present terrible condition of affairs should continue much longer. "I respect Spain," he concluded. Centuries ago she was the most powerful country of Europe. Her wars, however, were conducted with a degree of violence never recognized as proper by English speaking people. Spain fought with a bitterness that has no equal.

She has lost her high station in Europe. But I trust the time is not far distant when the new blood in Spain will make her the second republic of Europe. The tendency is in that direction. There is a large and strong Republican faction in Spain. If Spain were to renew again the treaty of Zampá of 1878 and carry out the reforms then promised I dare say the people of Cuba would eagerly accept the terms.

But, failing to do that, my opinion is that the war should not end, that it should continue until independence is achieved or home rule for the island is secured. If home rule were secured all the essentials of the great republic would be obtained. Canada is as much of a republic as the United States. Her government is her own. She is only bound to the home government by the ties of "Auld Lang Syne." This continent is the natural soil of republics. We should encourage all who are struggling to join in the vast procession of the Western Hemisphere, which shall eventually furnish the example for the rest of the civilized world."

Election Cases in the House.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—In the house, on motion of Mr. Johnson (Rep., Ind.), a resolution was adopted by which the claim of Coleman (Rep.) of the second Louisiana district to the seat of Mr. Buck (Dem.) was decided in favor of the latter. The contested election case of Aldrich vs. Robbins, from the Fourth Alabama district, was debated.

Against Exterminating the Seals.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The North American Commercial company has protested to the secretary of the treasury against the destruction of the Alaska fur seals by the United States, in any other manner whatsoever. The company has a 20-year contract with the government to take seals.

To Build a Big Canal.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—A bill to incorporate the maritime canal of North America to connect the Hudson river and the great lakes has been introduced in the senate by Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota and in the house by Representative Cooper of Wisconsin.

To Give Alaska a Representative.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The committee on territories of the house has voted to report favorably to the house the bill introduced by Mr. Scrantom (Pa.) for a delegate from Alaska.

THE VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.

Thought to Be About Settled in London Doubled in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—It can be stated positively, notwithstanding publications to the contrary, that no settlement has yet been reached of the Venezuelan boundary question, but according to the best authority matters are proceeding in such fashion as to warrant the belief that there will be a satisfactory outcome. It is admitted that at present it cannot be told whether the ultimate settlement of this question will be effected as the result of direct negotiations between Great Britain and Venezuela initiated through the medium of some mutually friendly power, or as the conclusion of the work of our own Venezuelan boundary commission, but in one way or another a peaceful and honorable settlement of the dispute is believed to be entirely probable in the end, though this end still may be far removed in point of time.

If negotiations directly between Venezuela and Great Britain have been resumed at Caracas the fact is not known to the officials here, who would surely be advised for their own guidance.

Meanwhile, so far as the British blue book has been examined, it can be stated that it is not regarded as bearing out the promise of invulnerability claimed for it in London. In fact, it is in many points regarded as open to impeachment as to actual historical events recited.

A London special says the correspondence of The Standard at New York telegraphs as follows: "It is believed that the Venezuela negotiations are proceeding hopefully on the basis of a purchase of the disputed districts."

The Daily News states this morning that negotiations on the Guiana boundary dispute continue, "but the question upon which Lord Salisbury and Mr. Olney have made mutually unacceptable proposals refers to the treatment of the settled districts. If an agreement is reached on this point the boundary dispute will be referred to a joint commission of Englishmen and Americans."

Goulds Escape Paying Taxes.
NEW YORK, March 13.—The Goulds will not be compelled to pay the taxes on $10,500,000 which were assessed in this city for the year 1895. When the case against George J. Gould came up for hearing before Judge Pryor in the special term of the supreme court the corporation counsel's representative announced that it had been determined to abandon the suits, on the ground that the defendant could establish the plea of non-residence.

The Steamer Rio Janeiro Safe.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The steamer Alameda brings news from Honolulu of the safety of the missing ship Rio de Janeiro, which left this port 35 days ago for Yokohama. The Rio encountered heavy weather, ran out of coal and arrived at Honolulu March 1, where she recoiled and proceeded to Yokohama.

Gave the Attorney a Beating.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 13.—John Landers, a young attorney, has been whipped by Mrs. Jennie Clay during the trial of a case in Justice Lyon's court, in which the woman was the defendant. In his argument to the jury Landers spoke of Mrs. Clay in uncompromising terms.

General Barattieri Will Face Charges.
ROME, March 13.—General Barattieri has arrived at Massowah in a physically and morally prostrated condition. He admits that he yielded to a rash impulse in making the attack which led to the disastrous defeat at Adowa. He says he is ready to meet any charges.

THE BOOTH-TUCKERS.

They Succeed to the Command of the U. S. Salvation Army.

BALLING BOOTH IS UNMOVED.

The Deposed Commander Will Not Go to London at General Booth's Request. Cause of the Trouble in the Salvation Army in America.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Ex-Commander Booth has not yet answered the telegram he received from his father, asking him to go to England and see the general. When asked if he would go to the other side, the commander said "I will not go. In a few days I will make a statement in which I will make known the name of the new organization which I have started."

A prominent Salvationist said the refusal of Mr. Booth to go to England by invitation of his father might cause the general to look to this country in a very short time.

Commissioner Eva C. Booth, who had temporarily supplanted her deposed brother, Ballington Booth, in the command of the Salvation Army in America, has in turn been superseded through the appointment of Mr. and Mrs. Booth-Tucker to the command of the army, a cablegram having arrived to that effect.

Relative to the causes of Ballington Booth's retirement from the command of the Salvation Army in the United States it is stated here that Ballington Booth submitted to his father 22 grievances and asked for remedy and relief from them. The principal one was concerning the "War Cry" superannuation fund.

The sale of the War Cry in this country was sanctioned by General Booth, who agreed to 10 per cent of the sales being set apart for a fund for disabled and superannuated soldiers. It was with this agreement and understanding that the paper was sold in this country. This fund now amounts to probably $5,000 or $10,000.

Some time ago, it is claimed, General Booth sent for this money, which he intended using for army purposes elsewhere, thus diverting it from its original purposes. Ballington Booth declined to accede to this demand, and said the fund was for the American army superannuated soldiers and not for the extension of the army. Immediately on top of this Ballington Booth's removal was ordered, which led to his resignation.

A $40,000 FIRE IN BOSTON.
The Building of the Pope Bicycle Manufacturing Company Gutted.

BOSTON, March 13.—The Pope Bicycle Manufacturing company's building on Columbus avenue has been completely gutted by fire, causing a loss of between $350,000 and $400,000. The block was a magnificent five-story structure of brick, profusely ornamented with terra cotta trimmings. The blaze started in the boiler room in the basement of the building and spread so rapidly that four ladies and two gentlemen, who were taking riding lessons on the fifth floor, had barely time to escape. Others also had narrow escapes.

The contents, which were completely ruined, consisted of 1,700 new wheels, 175 second-hand wheels and about 20,000 pieces of bicycle fittings beside several thousand tires.

The Young Men's Companion building, one of the most imposing structures in the city, which is separated from the burned building by a 15-foot alley, and the Hoffman house, a seven-story apartment house across the street, were thoroughly drenched. The loss to both buildings will aggregate $10,000.

WEYLER GETTING LENIENT.
Another Proclamation Which Softens the First Ones He Issued.

HAVANA, March 13.—Captain General Weyler has issued another proclamation, the terms of which indicate a purpose to still further soften the severity of the proclamations he issued soon after his arrival.

This latest official edict provides that all persons captured up to date in the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio who are suspected of having been members of a rebel band, should they of their own free will deny that they belonged to such band, will be liberated in every case, provided they give their promise before two witnesses to be loyal to the Spanish cause, and provided, also, that no one appears against them to offer charges of any other crimes.

Destruction Sentenced to Hang.
UNION, Mo., March 13.—Dr. Arthur Duestrow, the so-called millionaire murderer of St. Louis, who was convicted in the circuit court here a short time ago of killing his wife and baby in St. Louis, has been sentenced to be hanged April 22.

Collided With a Snowplow.
NEW MILFORD, Conn., March 13.—A disastrous rear end collision between a freight train and a snowplow has occurred near Kent Furnace, about 12 miles north of here. Two men were killed and seven or eight others injured.

Died Driving Horses.
NEW YORK, March 13.—Joseph Vieglar, driver for a brewery wagon, has died of heart disease while driving through Jersey City. His dead hands still clutched the reins, and the horses trotted along through the streets.

104 Deaths From Yellow Fever.
BUENOS AYRES, March 13.—The total number of deaths on board the Italian cruiser Leon bardia, from yellow fever in Rio de Janeiro, is 104.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The veterinary surgeons are kept busy these days.

Sherman T. Herbert is suffering from an attack of grip.

The board of improvement will meet next Monday night.

The thermometer registered two degrees above zero at 7 o'clock this morning.

Invitations are out for a ball to be given by the Lotus club on April 7, at Brunt's.

The Alvin club held a very successful dance at the city hall in Wellsville last night.

The morning train east was delayed today by a defective steam valve that had to be repaired.

There is a mail box at the corner of West Market and Sixth streets that is sadly in need of repair.

Richard Thomas is ill at his home on Seventh street. The gentleman has been confined to the house for some time past.

Patrons of the Ohio Valley Gas company were complaining today of the shortage of gas, the cold weather causing this effect.

Joe Duke, employed at the Union pottery, and who has been confined to the house for two months past with an attack of typhoid fever, is again able to be out.

There is a perceptible increase in passenger traffic on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Traveling men are commencing to arrive and depart with more frequency.

The Wheeling people are having trouble securing a ground for their base ball club, and if they are not successful, Jack Darragh will probably play ball at Patterson, N. J.

Two sleighs collided at the corner of Washington and Fifth street last night, but fortunately no serious damage was sustained. The names of the parties could not be learned.

The river and harbor committee will not pass this point until March 22; a report that they would be here on the Virginia today, is an error. The committee will not leave Washington until the 19th inst.

The Lorena and Bedford passed down last night. The Virginia is due up from Cincinnati today. Hereafter the Bedford will go as far down the river as Charleston and pass up and down this place but once a week.

The sleighing was good last night, but in the country the roads were not sufficiently frozen as to permit good sleighing. A number who went out of town found to their sorrow that they had better stay in town.

The service conducted by Evangelist Schiverea at the union meetings of the Voderes and the East Liverpool potteries today was well attended, and it was the unanimous expression of all that these meetings will be productive of much good.

A fight occurred in the West End at about 12 o'clock last night, and aroused the residents from their peaceful slumbers. It is thought the parties got off a street car at that point to settle a grievance. One of the parties was a Wellsville young man.

Father Murphy, president of the Holy Ghost college, of Pittsburg, will deliver a lecture at the Catholic church in Wellsville on Tuesday next. Ed McIntosh, of this place, and Miss Stock, of Pittsburg, who is visiting temporarily here, will render vocal selections on this occasion.

The Young Men's Christian association have organized a male chorus for the purpose of musical development. The chorus starts off with 21 voices, and will be rapidly increased. Fred Gray is the leader, and the singing at the Young Men's Christian association rooms will hereafter be a special feature.

Last night the merry tinkle of sleigh bells could be heard, and conspicuous among the many who were availing themselves of a sleigh ride was Tommy Bryan, of the fire station, who, behind a fast young colt of which he is the proud possessor, led many of his fleet competitors a spirited race. Marshal Wyman also might have been seen in a similar role.

The practice of snowballing people is one that is the source of much pleasure to youngsters, but oftentimes it is carried to an extreme. A son and daughter of a prominent citizen came home yesterday afternoon; the son exhibited a hat that looked the picture of fallen greatness, by reason of coming in contact with many hardened pellets, and the daughter has a badly swelled cheek, as a result of a visit from a swiftly thrown snow ball.

Frank Hardman died at the home of his mother in Wellsville Tuesday night, from an attack of typhoid fever. Deceased was a machinist and was employed at A. J. Boyce's foundry up until he was taken ill two weeks since; he was removed from his home here to the sister city about a week ago and rapidly grew worse, until death came. The funeral will be closed the afternoon of the funeral and interment will be in the Wellsville cemetery.

PRaise for the Protestants.

The Gregorian Bishops Write Concerning Mission Work in Armenia.

LONDON, March 13.—A letter is published here, addressed by the Gregorian bishops of Urfa to the Sultan, complaining that Europe is calmly looking on at the bloody butchery in Armenia. A portion of the letter is addressed to Christians in America, and says:

"We have been strenuously opposed to your mission work among us, but these bloody days have proved that some of our Protestant brothers have been staunch defenders of our honor and faith. You at least know that our crime in the eyes of the Turk has been that we have adopted the civilization that you commended. Behold the missions and schools, which you planted among us and which cost millions of dollars and hundreds of precious lives, now in ruins. The Turk is planning to rid himself of missionaries and teachers by leaving them nobody to labor among."

WOULDN'T STAND SPAIN'S BLUFF.

Use of Privateers in War With United States Would Be Stopped.

LONDON, March 13.—Mr. T. G. Bowles, Conservative member for King's Lynn, has asked the government, in the house of commons, if notice had been taken of the statements in the Spanish press that in the event of war between Spain and the United States, Spanish privateers would prey upon American commerce and whether, in view of the complications and injuries, British trade would suffer from such an evil.

The first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, said he had consulted with the admiralty and his colleagues on the subject and believed he was correct in saying there had been a general acceptance by all the powers, though not as a formal treaty, that a neutral flag covers enemies' goods, except contraband of war.

STUDENTS STILL BOISTEROUS.

Further Spanish Demonstrations Against the United States.

MADRID, March 13.—Further demonstrations of students against the United States, as a result of the Cuban resolutions of congress, have occurred.

At Corunna 200 students belonging to the university joined in a parade, cheered for Spain and burned an American flag. The police, however, succeeded in preventing the rioters from approaching the United States consulate.

At Alicante the mayor and police, while dispersing a similar anti-American demonstration, were pelted with stones. A number of policemen sustained injuries.

TURKEY AND RUSSIA AGREE.

Another Statement of an Alliance Between the Two Countries.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—A Constantinople correspondent writes that, thanks to the diplomatic successes of M. Nelidoff, Russian ambassador at Constantinople, Turkey's relations, as far as the Balkans and Egypt are concerned, will, in future, be entirely controlled by Russia.

In return, Russia engages to support Turkey and to keep the peace in Armenia.

An American in Danger.

NEW YORK, March 13.—United States Commissioner Shields has been informed that the Spanish authorities in Cuba have arrested Oliverio Agramante, a naturalized American citizen, who is suspected of being an insurgent, and that a military court martial was pending in his case. Secretary Olney has been asked to interfere.

Honduras Under Martial Law.

TEGUICIGALPA, Honduras, March 13.—The whole of the republic of Honduras has been placed under martial law, pending the settlement of the civil war, pending the settlement of the civil war, pending the settlement of the civil war.

Relinquished a Fortune to Marry.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Mrs. Thomas C. Sloane, widow of a millionaire carpet man, who died in 1890, has decided to forfeit an income of $400,000 to marry James L. Barclay. The money was well invested and paying Mrs. Sloane $40,000 a year.

MARCHING TO VICTORY.

manhood, desecrated homes, bleary eyes, deserted family, prison cells, murdered wife, mother or child, and oh awful thought, the final judgment at the bar of God and eternal banishment from heaven; it's all there, men, in that awful glass of whisky. For the sake of your precious, never dying soul, ask Jesus that you may receive your sight and escape the horrors of hell. Oh, men of East Liverpool, arise in your manhood and say: 'By the help of God, I'll never take another drink.'

"Are there any gamblers here tonight? As I came to this meeting tonight I heard a young fellow, engaged in a game of cards, say, 'I'll pass.' Oh, the curse of the cards: the curse of the fever of gambling in the blood and veins. The gambler don't want the love of Jesus in his heart; he wants to reap sin, shame and dishonor. Why? Because he is blind. I wish to Almighty God that I had the power to burn every card in the universe, and then prohibit the manufacture of any more of the curse. They are banished in the penitentiaries; they formerly allowed them there, but they are now prohibited. The only class of people who now use cards are insane people, idiots, and some church members. I knew a clerk in a drug store, and the unfortunate young fellow gambled. He came to me and made confession of his shame. He had robbed his employer and he wanted me to go with him to that employer until he made confession. I sent a trustworthy friend. Oh, the humiliation of that young gambler, as he confessed that he was a thief and gave his father as security for the amount stolen. He had been blind.

"Oh, the curse of the dance—the round dance. Cry out at me for this if you will. I know whereof I am speaking, and so does every honest man of experience. Young women, you who engage in this dance, have a care. You are spiritually blind. You are running an awful risk; you are risking your immortal soul. The records of the criminal docket of Pittsburgh show that 95 per cent of the prostitutes of that city have been made so through the hellish power of the round dance. I said to a young lady who claimed to be trying to do right: 'You must quit your dancing.' She replied: 'There is no harm in it unless you make harm out of it; you are unreasonable. I can't give up my dancing.' I said to her: 'Bosh; you mean that you won't give up your hugging. You like the hugging. That's what all the men love to dance with you for—to hug you; you can't give up your hugging.' Why, men, the savage Indians consider dancing by men and women, together, as indecent and unbecoming. In the days of Rome, with all her villainess, only lost and abandoned women—women of the street—danced in company with men. Don't you dance for the hugging there is in it with the opposite sex? Take a lot of men and let them try a buck dance; you know that they will soon quit it in disgust. God pity the poor girls who are so blind as to continue indulging in the cursed round dance.

"Then the curse of money. It is all right to attend to your business in a proper manner, and to make money in a reasonable and legitimate way; but when the love of accumulating money becomes a passion in your veins, and you neglect your church and the influence of Jesus in your life, then the love of money and money making becomes an awful curse in your life.

"The leper. It is an awful disease, incurable on the part of human physicians; the poor victim is foul and loathsome and avoided and dreaded by human kind; unclean, unclean! What did the blessed Jesus say to the miserable victim of this awful disease, when the cry went up in agony: 'If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.' Quick came the blessed answer, making the leper's heart bound with joy unspeakable: 'I will; be thou clean.' And immediately he was every whit whole. Jesus came for just such blessed, wonderful, loving work. Oh, poor sinner, burdened and loathsome from the leprosy of sin, Jesus is seeking you, calling upon you, knocking at the door of your heart, and he stands ready to wash and cleanse you in his most precious blood.

"The widow at the grave of her only boy, sorrowful, sad, broken-hearted. Jesus raised him from the dead and sent him home with his now happy mother. Oh, boys, ye who are dead in trespasses and sin, let Jesus awake you from your living death and make glad and happy the hearts of your loving mothers.

"Listen, men, listen. Jesus is here tonight; right here in East Liverpool; right here in this rink. How he loves you. He wants to put his loving arms around and about you and send you home rejoicing. Think of it, men, think of it. This night may be the last opportunity you will ever have. Jesus is seeking you; oh, list to his call.

"A gentleman came to me and said: 'Five years ago I was led to Jesus at one of your meetings, and since then my wife and five children have been saved? Oh, the blessed joy of the thought. Seven saved souls for Jesus. Saved through his atonement.

"Think of it men. Jesus is not only willing to save you, but he is earnestly seeking you, urging you to receive, as a free gift, the unspeakable, indescribable riches of heaven and eternal life.

"Listen to this, men and women of East Liverpool: listen to what our Savior can do through human instrumentalities. Jack King was a notorious rumrunner of Brooklyn, New York. Jack never liked me. Diphtheria, of the most malignant form, caught his family, and in three days he lost his three lovely children, the light of his home, for he idolized them. Two of the children were already dead, and Ida, the idolized girl, was about to die, when she said to her mother: 'Mamma, I want to see Mr. Schiverea before I die. Oh, mamma, will you send for him?' They came to me and asked me if I would go to the rumrunner's home, to the home of the saloonist who hated me. I said to them: 'Why, God bless you, I'd go anywhere on earth to help save a soul or do good; that's my business. I'd go down into hell on my Master's business, to have a revival, if such a thing were possible. Man, I hate the rumrunner's infamous, soul-damning traffic; but I love his soul. I do, I do, I do! I went to the bedside of that dear little girl, and she whispered to me: 'Mr. Schiverea, there is something I want you to do for me before I die. I want you to go and bring papa here.' I went to him, men; he was seated on a chair, and dangling a massive gold watch chain in his fingers. I said to him: 'Jack King, your dying child wants you; come with me; and he accompanied me at once. The dear little one said: 'Papa, Willie went to heaven on Monday, Mary went on Tuesday, and now I am going. Oh, papa, Jesus will meet me at the gate and ask me if you are coming too. Speak quickly, papa dear, for I am dying. You love me, papa; you love your little girl; give me your hand, papa; won't you promise to meet me in heaven, with Jesus?' And then, men, that rumrunner, broken-hearted, said: 'Yes, darling, I'll meet you in heaven, God willing. I've decided for Christ, darling.'

"Oh, men of East Liverpool, decide the matter, decide quickly, before God's wrath is visited upon you; men and women, decide at once, before your loved ones are taken from your side. It took the life of that rumrunner's idolized little girl to save his immortal soul. He wouldn't come to God, and God used His mighty power rather than lose even a rumrunner's soul.

"The man in the prison pen who proclaims himself innocent and unjustly dealt with is the man hardest to save from a lifetime of crime. The man who acknowledges his guilt and pleads for mercy, there is hope for such a sinner.

"George C. Needham and his wife were lost in a forest. He climbed to the top of a tree and called out lustily: 'I'm lost, I'm lost, I'm lost.' A woodman came to his rescue, told him his cries had been heard by him, and that he had sent his two dogs out to search for him, and told him that, had he not cried out as he did, he would have perished from cold before morning, and then he took the lost man and wife to a comfortable and cosy farmhouse.

"Oh, you poor, dying, lost sinner, don't you know that you are lost; don't you know that you are on the very verge of hell. Cry out, oh ye men and women of East Liverpool; cry out, long and loud, in agony of spirit: 'I'm lost, I'm lost, blessed Jesus; come to my rescue.' The blessed Christ will hear you and hasten to your aid, and will give you a home in heaven, with the redeemed and ransomed ones. God almighty bless and save you.

Weeden then sang, amid intense silence, 'I never shall forget the day, I heard my mother kindly say.'

The after meeting proved a source of blessing to many burdened hearts.

The Play.

The Wilson Theater company presented the drama, entitled, "The Two Orphans," at the Grand last night to a fair sized audience. Tonight they will present "Old Glory," with Camilla Dahl as "Frochard," a part in which she has won many laurels; Harry Rogers as "Jock Frochard," and Maud Phelps as the blind girl, Louise. Ladies' free tickets have been issued for this evening, and judging by the past performances of this company, they should have a packed house.

A Protest.

Patrons of the street car company who are fond of smoking remonstrated vigorously against the refusal of the company to permit them longer to stand on the rear platform and finish a cigar that may have been freshly lighted just before boarding a car. They say that it is extravagant to throw away a cigar that is but half smoked, and they think that they should at least be given time to finish it.

PERSONAL MENTION.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Situation Unchanged.

T. S. Baker, deputy sheriff, of Salineville, is in the city on business today. He says that the strike situation among the miners remains the same.

BOOK AUCTION.

Tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock and 7 o'clock at night, large stock of miscellaneous books will be offered for sale by auction at No. 120 Sixth street.

FRANK BREMAN.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Out Again.

Dr. W. J. Taylor is able to be out again, after being confined to his room with an intensely painful beating in his right ear.

BOOK AUCTION.

Tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock and 7 o'clock at night, large stock of miscellaneous books will be offered for sale by auction at No. 120 Sixth street.

FRANK BREMAN.

HER FAN.

Flutter of feathers and perfume of lace. Carved ivory, daintily white; Fluffy little Capids, with mischievous faces— Ah, could I but read your expression aright! Say, do you know, are you wholly unfeeling. As you peep into another with roses so sweet? Do you not know that my heart she is stealing. To trample it under her pearly shod feet?

Almost I think you exult in the glances Your owner bestows when she seeks to enslave. Know you no cure for wounds from love's lances? Have you no power her victims to save?

Swiftly she whirls in the maze of the dances; Slightly you laugh as you peep from each fold. And thus one more victim of coquetry's fancies. Questions in vain—his fate is untold.

—Lucy Mayo Warner in Boston Budget.

CRANKY GUESTS.

Experience of Hotel Clerks in Dealing With Some of Them.

"I cannot sleep in that room," said a guest at a hotel in this city last evening as he walked to the desk in the office and threw the key upon it.

"What is the matter with it?" asked the clerk.

"There is nothing the matter with it except that the bed is in the wrong place," the guest replied. "For more than 20 years I have slept in a bed with the head toward the north, and it has become such a habit with me that it would be actually impossible for me to sleep with the head in any other direction."

"It will be impossible for me to give you a room containing a bed with the head in that direction," said the clerk. "The hotel is well filled tonight, and I have only two vacant rooms, but I will have the bed turned for you." Calling a porter, the clerk instructed him to turn the bed in the gentleman's room so that the head would be to the north. The guest followed the porter up stairs, and as nothing further was heard from him it is presumed that he retired and slept peacefully.

"There is no accounting for tastes," said the clerk, turning to the reporter, "and the funny experiences we have in the hotel business would fill a volume. Before the night is over we may have calls for beds with their heads turned to every point of the compass, and of course we are obliged to accommodate every one."

"I remember an instance like this several years ago. A man slightly inebriated came into the hotel one night, and producing a pocket compass said that he wished a room where the head of the bed should be placed to the northeast. We sent two boys with him, and they turned the bed as requested. The joke was that the compass was furnished with a little stop, which held the indicator in a certain position. It so happened that the gentleman's bed, which had been carefully placed north-east according to the compass, was in reality placed with the head to the south. The man discovered his mistake the next morning and was cured of the 'fad.'—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Cremation Growing in Favor.

The movement in favor of cremation as against earth burial is growing in England. The other day Mr. William Rathbone, ex M. P., stated in public that he had made provision for cremation in his own case on principle and with a view to promoting the reform. At this moment a new crematorium is almost ready for use at Liverpool. It is a neat building of red sandstone, simple and chaste in design. The main door opens into a small chapel. From this room the coffin will be carried after the burial service is read into a small apartment beyond and there placed upon an iron frame running on wheels and rails in a line with the furnace and pushed noiselessly into the abode of flames.

From the chapel the clergyman, followed by the relatives of the deceased, will ascend a stair on the opposite side from the door by which the coffin has been removed into a small gallery overlooking the door of the furnace. From this gallery the service prescribed for the grave will be read and the mourners will take the last look of the coffin as it disappears within the furnace. The situation of the crematorium at Anfield is wisely chosen, being in the heart of a pretty suburban neighborhood and accessible from all parts of the city. There is an office, with a cottage for the caretaker attached, at the entrance gate. The crematorium will be opened for public use not later than April 1.—Westminster Gazette.

The Mascot Worked.

Otto Feudner has been buying lottery tickets for years and has never won so much as an approximation prize. He concluded that he would have to get a mascot, so on the advice of a colored friend he set a box trap out in the cemetery to catch a graveyard rabbit.

Feudner caught a great big fellow the first night and put him in a big dry goods box. It was the day before the drawing, so to make sure that the mascot would work all right Feudner put $25 worth of tickets in the box with the rabbit. After the drawing he went to see what he had won.

The mascot had worked. It had eaten up all the lottery tickets.—San Francisco Post.

Unidentified Rivers.

The first rivers mentioned in authentic history are alluded to in Genesis. They are the Pison, the Gihon, the Hiddekel and the Euphrates, which are said to have flowed from the garden of Eden. Various attempts have been made to identify these streams, but no agreement has been reached among the authorities save in the case of the last.
